FARM BLOC FORCES BILL THROUGH SENATE

McNARY-HAUGEN BILL ON WAY TO THE WHITE HOUSE

SUCCESSFUL IN UPPER HOUSE WITH LESS THAN WEEK OF DEBATE

SIMILAR FAVORABLE ACTION IS EXPECTED IN HOUSE MON-DAY OR TUESDAY

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 12.—(UP)—
The McNary-Haugen farm relief bill has completed the first leg of its journey to the White House.

With less than a week of debate,
the farm bloc forced the bill through the senate late yesterday and sent it today upon its way to the house, where similar favorable action is expected Monday or Tuesday.

"I do not know what President Coolidge will do with the bill if it goes to him for signature, but he cannot help being impressed by the decisive vote," Chairman McNary of the senate agriculture committee, co-author of the measure, told the United Press after the bill had been adopted, 47 to 39.

The bill should be finally perfected by both houses the latter part of next week. Then it will go to the president, who can pocket it until congress adjourns, veto it or sign it and make it a law.

Apparently authentic information has unofficially been given republican leaders in congress that Mr.
Coolidge will veto the bill.

A two-thirds majority would be required to pass it over the veto, but leaders are so certain that two-thirds cannot be mustered that they would make no effort to press the measure should the president kill it.

The farm bloc in the house is making preparations to rush action on the bill. A similar bill already is under consideration and the senate bill will be substituted for it. About half the twelve hours allotted for debate has been utilized.

House farm leaders assert they have a 40 vote margin for the measure.

The senate farm bloc smashed the bill through so speedily yesterday, that it did not take time to correct
some of the amendments. A technical amendment by Senator McKel-lar, democrat, Tennessee, was side-tracked, but will be inserted in the house.

Several far-reaching amendments were adopted by the senate. Tobacco was inserted in the list of commodities affected by the equalization fee, along with wheat, corn, swine, rice and cotton. A provision was entered to enable a majority of co-operative organizations of any state to reject the equalization fee feature of the bill for that state.

Many southern senators, considered members of the farm bloc, voted against the bill because they did not wish the equalization fee forced on cotton. This group included Senators George and Harris, democrats, Georgia; Harrison and Stephens, democrats, Mississippi; Heflin and Underwood, democrats, Alabama, and Blease, democrat, South Carolina.

The state representations of Arizona, Oregon, Washington, North and South Dakota, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Indiana, Illinois, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana, Florida and Tennessee were solidly for the bill.

Despite the threat of a veto by a republican president, 24 republicans voted for the measure.

Washington, Feb. 12.—The big features of the McNary-Haugen farm bill passed yesterday by the senate are:

Establishment of a $250,000 federal revolving fund to finance farmers in holding their products until they can get "a fair price."

Declaration that wheat, corn, cotton, rice, swine and tobacco be considered basic agricultural products to which the finance system would apply.

Levying of an equalization fee upon farmers as cost of operating expenses of their co-operative organizations.

Extension of 4 per cent loans to stabilize other agricultural products not listed as basic.

Coolidge Has a Second Disarmament Plan Ready

OUR DAILY QUAKE REPORT— CALEXICO, CALIF.

Calexico, Calif., Feb. 12.—(UP)—
Two sharp earthquake shocks thirty minutes apart rocked several Imperial valley cities early today.

The first tremor was the most severe. It shook down cornices of some buildings damaged by the January quakes and did other nominal damage.

The second shock was much lighter than the first.

Brawley, El Centro, Mexicali and other valley towns reported the tremors but no extensive damage was done. Only a few residents arose from their beds when the vibrations came.

INTERESTING LETTER ON CASE LINCOLN TRIED

CONNECTED WITH LINCOLN'S DEFENSE OF "DUFF" ARMSTRONG

CHIEF WITNESS' MOON STORY DISCREDITED BY LINCOLN'S ALMANAC

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 12.—(UP)—
An interesting letter in connection with Abraham Lincoln's defense of "Duff" Armstrong, in the now famous Armstrong murder trial, was unearthed today—the 118th anniversary of Lincoln's birth—by the archives division of the secretary of state's office.

The letter was written by William H. Norris, who was convicted of the murder of which Lincoln's client was acquitted. Lincoln succeeded in discrediting the testimony of Charles Allen, chief witness for
the prosecution.

Allen testified he saw Armstrong
strike the blow that killed Preston Metzger. He said the moon was shining brightly immediately overhead. Lincoln produced an almanac
to show the moon was on the western horizon. This resulted in Armstrong's acquittal.

Norris' respect for Lincoln as a lawyer, is shown clearly in the letter which was addressed to Richard Yates, war governor of the state,
from Joliet penitentiary, where he was sentenced for eight years for Metzger's murder. The letter appealed for a pardon.

In his letter Norris declared Armstrong was acquitted through the ability of A. Lincoln, our present
president, chiefly by breaking down
the testimony of Charles Allen." Norris was pardoned in 1863, six years
after writing the letter.

The letter, which was written over 70 years ago, is yellow with age and barely readable. It will be properly protected by the archives division
and placed with hundreds of other Lincoln records the division has discovered since its organization in 1922.

Montgomery, Mo., Feb. 12.—An axe said by C. E. Vandaveer, its owner, to be the one used by Abraham Lincoln when he was a rail
splitter in Gentry county, Missouri,
was placed on display in the court house today.

With it is an affidavit stating that Vandaveer inherited the relic
from Mrs. Svala Vandaveer, his grandmother, who in turn had received it from William Smith, her husband's uncle, who worked with Lincoln chopping rails.

Vandaveer is deputy county collector. He plans to display the relic
every year on Lincoln's birthday.

LIVED APART FOR 5 YEARS; NOW DIVORCED

Carson City, Nev., Feb. 12.—(U-P)—After living apart for nearly five years, William S. "Bill" Hart, two-gun man of the movies, and his wife, Winifred Westover Hart, have been legally separated through the divorce court.

Mrs. Hart obtained the divorce decree in a session of the district court at Reno last night on the grounds of desertion and abandonment.

Says Vast Prohibition Machine Has Stopped Flow of Supposed "Good Liquor" in Country

ANDREWS IN AN EMPHATIC STATEMENT TODAY

AROUND

TO COMBAT THIS HE NEEDS FUR-
CONGRESS

By JOSEPH S. WASNEY
(Copyright, 1927, by United Press)

Washington, Feb. 12.—The vast prohibition machine under Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews
has succeeded in stopping the supposed "good liquor" in the United States, Andrews declared emphatically today in an exclusive interview
with the United Press.

There is a considerable moonshine traffic in the country, Andrews admitted. To combat this he needs further powers from congress, he said.

"It is utterly absurd to pass on whether a law can be enforced until enforcement agents are given an opportunity to enforce it," he said. "So far there has been a lack of congressional support for needed prohibition legislation and there is still need of local co-operation on enforcement."

Moonshiners, he said, are now the
one big source of liquor supply.
"The federal organization is directed only at the source of supply,
and the moonshine industry cannot
be broken until the people themselves force local law enforcement agencies to go after these criminals,"
he added.

Congress must pass the prohibition reorganization bill and medicinal spirits legislation, and must release funds for undercover work if prohibition is to go ahead, Andrews
said.

"The prohibition unit reorganization measure would divorce the organization from the internal revenue bureau and therefore remove dual responsibility," he explained. "This would simplify administration of the law in every way.

"The public should be interested in the medicinal liquor bill. It will assure the sick of a pure brand of liquor for medicinal needs, and it will save the government millions of dollars annually in enforcement
work."

"Without secret service agents,
prohibition can never succeed. Therefore I am hopeful that congress will release the $500,000 fund for undercover operations.
"Some of the liquor rings in the country have big secret service organizations of their own. Fire must be fought with fire. When rum trusts have monthly payrolls of more than $1,000,000, it is time to realize that brains are behind the organizations and they cannot be attacked
in the open."

"Secret service work is the backbone of prohibition enforcement, and work of carrying out the provisions of the Volstead act will suffer after July 1, unless money is made available for it."

Andrews said persons who drink
liquor in this era and think it is good are playing a joke on themselves. There is now only one chance
in two thousand to obtain a drink of genuine pre-Volstead stuff, he declared.

He asserted rum running from the seas has virtually been ended by the coast guard, industrial alcohol leaks
have been reduced to a minimum,
new regulations have ended the flow
of sacramental wines into bootleg
channels, and the border patrols
have established a successful blockade along the Mexican boundary.

"Considerable liquor continues to come in from Canada, especially in the vicinity of Detroit," he said.
"Smuggling has not been stopped altogether in the Pacific northwest, off
Florida and the Gulf regions. We are concentrating on this gigantic business and hope for victory, however."

"Every possible legal means is being used to cut off the bootlegger's sources of supply. Progress has been made, but of course, there is room
for great improvement. It is entirely up to congress now whether we go ahead, stand still or back-
track."

Andrews said he is not considering resigning at present. He is still optimistic about passage of pending
dry legislation, which would open the way for him to swing his probi-tion machine into high gear.

CONTINGENT OF BRITISH AT SHANGHAI

THERE

REPORTS FROM SOUTH THAT CANTONESE NATIONALISTS
SUFFERED REVERSES

Shanghai, Feb. 12.—(UP)—The
first contingent of British troops dispatched because of the fear of the British government that lives and property in the international settlement were menaced arrived at dawn
today.

A force of 300 American marines already was here when the British arrived.

Reports from the south today said
the Cantonese nationalists, who hope to capture Shanghai, had suffered a reversal in battle with Sun Chuan-
fang, Chinese defender of Shanghai.
The engagement took place in the province of Chekiang, south of the province in which Shanghai is situated.

MONEY STOLEN ON BOARD SHIP FOUND IN SMALL PACKAGES

San Francisco, Feb. 12.—(UP)—Solution of the mysterious disappearance of $51,000 from the specie tank of the Panama mail liner Columbia, was believed near today when $1,600 of the stolen money was reported found as
the ship docked here.

The money, carefully tied in small
parcels, had been cached in a dozen different places on the boat. It was found by members of the crew after
the Columbia left San Pedro Thursday night.

When the craft reached here today
no passengers or members of the crew were allowed to land, pending
another thorough search.

The Columbia's specie tank was
looted between La Natividad, San Salvador, and San Pedro. The stolen money was consigned to the Bank of

20,000 HARD COAL MINERS ARE MADE IDLE

Hazleton, Pa., Feb. 12.—(UP)—
With more than 20,000 anthracite miners idle because of slack conditions in the coal market, the Lehigh Valley Coal Co. today closed for the remainder of the winter operations at all strip mines.

Thousands of additional miners
were thrown out of work because of this order.

The orders to close all stripping
operations halted improvement
operations in the hands of private contractors in all parts of the anthracite region.

DISCOVER SKULLS OF FOUR WOMEN IN A TRUNK

TODAY

POLICE ARE SEEKING A COLOR-ED WAR VET-
ERAN

Royal Oak, Mich., Feb. 12.—(UP)—
Discovery of the skulls of four women in a trunk here, today
brought about a nation wide search,
centering in Cleveland, Pittsburgh
and Detroit, for a man who is believed to have murdered the four women.

Police today sought James H. Coy-
ner, colored world war veteran, who occupied the house where the trunk
was found for four years. Coyner

Authorities told the United Press
they understood Coyner is now serving a penitentiary sentence either
in Ohio or Illinois for digging up dead bodies. This led them, they said, to the belief that the skulls
found in the trunk had been dug
from a grave—if not by Coyner, by someone else.

With the skulls in the trunk were found a braid of blonde hair, several clippings from Pittsburgh papers,
containing the names of prominent society women, and a notebook containing names and addresses of several Cleveland and Detroit women.
The word "white" had been written

NEW YORK IS CLIMBING LADDER OF MORALITY

New York, Feb. 12.—(UP)—New York is climbing still higher up the ladder of morality.

While theaters and night clubs are being closely watched by police for underclad dangers and immoral plays, dry agents seized $200,000 worth of liquor in the second series of prohibition raids in the past two months on Broadway. Other agents in Brooklyn obtained $100,000 in alcohol from a raid on a garage.

Under the blanket police order for cleaning up and covering up the underclad dancers of the night clubs,
eight dancing girls, and three others
were arrested at the Club Ashland in Brooklyn. Raiders said the girls were dressed only in abbreviated tights.

59 FINE HOGS DIE OF PNEUMONIA

Canby, Minn., Feb. 12.—(UP)—Fifty-
nine Hampshire hogs from the farm of
W. E. Trowbridge, near here, were wiped out by an epidemic of pneumonia, according to reports reaching here today.

CONGRESS TODAY

Senate
Reed campaign fund committee meets to consider summoning witnesses who refused to appear.

Public lands committee continues investigation of lumber contract in Grant county, Oregon.

House
Considers McNary-Haugen bill.
Military committee considers Muscle Shoals.

Ways and means committee considers whiskey bill.

PROVIDING FRANCE DEFEATS PRESENT PROPOSAL

WILL SUPPORT 5 POWER PACT LIMITING AUXILIARY
NAVAL CRAFT

RESERVE PROPOSAL CALLS FOR A 3 POWER TREATY WITH BRITAIN AND JAPAN

By LUDWELL DENNY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Coolidge has a second disarmament
Washington, Feb. 12.—President
Coolidge has a second disarmament
plan ready if France or other nations defeat his present proposal.

He will not insist on the five-power pact limiting auxiliary naval craft, suggested in his memorandum
to Great Britain, France, Japan and Italy, though he will support it so long as there is hope.

The reserve proposal calls for a three-power treaty with Great Britain and Japan limiting cruisers, destroyers and submarines to the present 5-5-3 ratio on capital ships, the United Press learned today.

Mr. Coolidge has good reason to believe the second plan would succeed—at least with certain British reservations providing periodic tonnage revision because of French non-adherence to the pact.

The Coolidge disarmament tactics
—as formulated by Ambassador
Hugh S. Gibson, the American arms delegate, and approved by the president, are:

1. Make every possible concession to obtain French acceptance of the naval conference idea. This explains the substitution of Geneva
for Washington as the meeting place. Avoid separate informal negotiations with Great Britain, which would revive the charge of an "An-gio-American combine" made by France during the Washington conference.

2. If France agrees to the conference, the United States in the deliberations will recognize the French
right to a much larger comparative ratio in submarines than the Washington treaty accorded her in capital ships. The capital ship ratio is
5-5-3 for the United States, Great Britain and Japan, and 1.67 for France and Italy.

3. Whenever a deadlock is reached, regardless of the nation which causes it, the United States will fall back on the basic economic financial argument. Either directly or indirectly, this government will let it
be known that no European nation
can stand the financial strain of a naval armament race without jeopardizing its monetary and social system.

4. This government is prepared to indicate in all friendliness that if an armament race is forced upon it,
someone else will suffer.

5. Meanwhile this government will frown upon further loans to foreign nations for direct or indirect
armament use.

Officials here are so sympathetic
with the French desire for adequate protection that, they say, they cannot understand the persistence of the French idea that the United States necessarily would vote with
the British on all conference issues
growing out of the question of British cruisers versus French submarines.

There is no disposition in official circles here to approach the difficult disarmament question from the assumption that France is "militaristic." Officials credit France with a will-to-peace equal to that of the United States, but complicated by security problems from which this country is free by geographical isolation.

Despite this sympathy with France
President Coolidge is opposed to the French insistence that naval armament is an inseparable part of the whole land-sea-air problem, and should be deferred until the general
problem is solved. The president fears general arms limitation may be a long way off, which increases
his conviction that further naval limitations is an imperative necessity of peace and economy now.

Washington, Feb. 11.—European nations might infer that the U. S.
is insincere in its advocacy of peace
and disarmament if congress fails
to provide funds for further participation in the League of Nations pre-

ceeded in discrediting the testimony
of Charles Allen, chief witness for
the prosecution.

Allen testified he saw Armstrong
strike the blow that killed Preston Metzger. He said the moon was shining brightly immediately over-
head. Lincoln produced an almanac
to show the moon was on the western horizon. This resulted in Armstrong's acquittal.

lawyer, is shown clearly in the letter which was addressed to Richard
Yates, war governor of the state,
from Joliet penitentiary, where he
was sentenced for eight years for Metzger's murder. The letter appealed for a pardon.

In his letter Norris declared Armstrong was acquitted through the ability of A. Lincoln, our present
president, chiefly by breaking down
the testimony of Charles Allen." Norris was pardoned in 1863, six years
after writing the letter.

70 years ago, is yellow with age and barely readable. It will be properly
protected by the archives division
and placed with hundreds of other Lincoln records the division has discovered since its organization in 1922.

Montgomery, Mo., Feb. 12.—An
axe said by C. E. Vandaveer, its owner, to be the one used by Abraham Lincoln when he was a rail
splitter in Gentry county, Missouri,
was placed on display in the court house today.

With it is an affidavit stating
from Mrs. Svala Vandaveer, his grandmother, who in turn had received it from William Smith, her
husband's uncle, who worked with Lincoln chopping rails.

Vandaveer is deputy county collector. He plans to display the relic

Says Vast Prohibition Machine Has Stopped Flow of Supposed "Good Liquor" in Country

ANDREWS IN AN EMPHATIC STATEMENT TODAY

AROUND

TO COMBAT THIS HE NEEDS FUR-
CONGRESS

By JOSEPH S. WASNEY
(Copyright, 1927, by United Press)

Washington, Feb. 12.—The vast
prohibition machine under Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews
has succeeded in stopping the supposed "good liquor" in the United States, Andrews declared emphatic-
ally today in an exclusive interview
with the United Press.

There is a considerable moonshine
traffic in the country, Andrews admitted. To combat this he needs
further powers from congress, he said.

"It is utterly absurd to pass on whether a law can be enforced until enforcement agents are given an opportunity to enforce it," he said. "So
far there has been a lack of congressional support for needed prohibition
legislation and there is still need of
local co-operation on enforcement."

one big source of liquor supply.

"The federal organization is directed only at the source of supply,
and the moonshine industry cannot
be broken until the people themselves force local law enforcement agencies to go after these criminals,"
he added.

Congress must pass the prohibition reorganization bill and medicinal spirits legislation, and must release funds for undercover work if prohibition is to go ahead, Andrews
said.

"The prohibition unit reorganization measure would divorce the organization from the internal revenue
bureau and therefore remove dual
responsibility," he explained. "This

would simplify administration of the law in every way.

"The public should be interested in the medicinal liquor bill. It will assure the sick of a pure brand of
will save the government millions of
work."

"Without secret service agents,
prohibition can never succeed. Therefore I am hopeful that congress will release the $500,000 fund for un-
dercover operations."

"Some of the liquor rings in the country have big secret service organizations of their own. Fire must be fought with fire. When rum
trusts have monthly payrolls of more than $1,000,000, it is time to realize
that brains are behind the organizations and they cannot be attacked
in the open."

"Secret service work is the backbone of prohibition enforcement, and
work of carrying out the provisions
of the Volstead act will suffer after July 1, unless money is made available for it."

Andrews said persons who drink
liquor in this era and think it is
good are playing a joke on themselves. There is now only one chance
in two thousand to obtain a drink
of genuine pre-Volstead stuff, he declared.

He asserted rum running from the seas has virtually been ended by the coast guard, industrial alcohol leaks
have been reduced to a minimum,
new regulations have ended the flow
of sacramental wines into bootleg
channels, and the border patrols
have established a successful blockade along the Mexican boundary.

"Considerable liquor continues to
come in from Canada, especially in the vicinity of Detroit," he said.
"Smuggling has not been stopped altogether in the Pacific northwest, off
Florida and the Gulf regions. We are concentrating on this gigantic
business and hope for victory, however."

"Every possible legal means is being used to cut off the bootlegger's
sources of supply. Progress has been made, but of course, there is room
for great improvement. It is entirely up to congress now whether
we go ahead, stand still or back-
track."

Andrews said he is not considering resigning at present. He is still optimistic about passage of pending
dry legislation, which would open
the way for him to swing his prohibition machine into high gear.

THERE

CANTONESE NATIONALISTS
SUFFERED REVERSES

Shanghai, Feb. 12.—(UP)—The
first contingent of British troops dispatched because of the fear of the British government that lives and
property in the international settlement were menaced arrived at dawn
today.

A force of 300 American marines already was here when the British arrived.

Reports from the south today said
the Cantonese nationalists, who hope
to capture Shanghai, had suffered a
reversal in battle with Sun Chuan-
fang, Chinese defender of Shanghai.
The engagement took place in the province of Chekiang, south of the province in which Shanghai is situated.

MONEY STOLEN ON BOARD SHIP FOUND IN SMALL PACKAGES

San Francisco, Feb. 12.—(UP)—Solution of the mysterious disappearance
of $51,000 from the specie tank of the Panama mail liner Columbia, was believed near today when $1,600 of the
stolen money was reported found as
the ship docked here.

The money, carefully tied in small
parcels, had been cached in a dozen
different places on the boat. It was
the Columbia left San Pedro Thursday night.

When the craft reached here today
no passengers or members of the crew were allowed to land, pending
another thorough search.

looted between La Natividad, San Salvador, and San Pedro. The stolen money was consigned to the Bank of

20,000 HARD COAL MINERS ARE MADE IDLE

Hazleton, Pa., Feb. 12.—(UP)—
With more than 20,000 anthracite
miners idle because of slack conditions in the coal market, the Lehigh Valley Coal Co. today
closed for the remainder of the winter operations at all strip
mines.

Thousands of additional miners
were thrown out of work because of this order.

The orders to close all stripping
operations halted improvement
operations in the hands of private contractors in all parts of the anthracite region.

DISCOVER SKULLS OF FOUR WOMEN IN A TRUNK

TODAY

POLICE ARE SEEKING A COLOR-ED WAR VET-
ERAN

Royal Oak, Mich., Feb. 12.—(UP)—
Discovery of the skulls of four
women in a trunk here, today
brought about a nation wide search,
centering in Cleveland, Pittsburgh
and Detroit, for a man who is believed to have murdered the four women.

Police today sought James H. Coy-
ner, colored world war veteran, who
occupied the house where the trunk

Authorities told the United Press
they understood Coyner is now serving a penitentiary sentence either
in Ohio or Illinois for digging up
dead bodies. This led them, they
found in the trunk had been dug
from a grave—if not by Coyner, by someone else.

With the skulls in the trunk were
found a braid of blonde hair, several
clippings from Pittsburgh papers,
containing the names of prominent
society women, and a notebook containing names and addresses of several Cleveland and Detroit women.
The word "white" had been written

NEW YORK IS CLIMBING LADDER OF MORALITY

New York, Feb. 12.—(UP)—New York is climbing still higher up the
ladder of morality.

While theaters and night clubs are
being closely watched by police for underland dangers and immoral plays,
dry agents seized $200,000 worth of
liquor in the second series of prohibition raids in the past two months on Broadway. Other agents in Brooklyn
obtained $100,000 in alcohol from a raid on a garage.

Under the blanket police order for
cleaning up and covering up the underland dangers of the night clubs,
eight dancing girls, and three others
were arrested at the Club Ashland in Brooklyn. Raiders said the girls were dressed only in abbreviated tights.

59 FINE HOGS DIE OF PNEUMONIA

Canby, Minn., Feb. 12.—(UP)—Fifty-
nine Hampshire hogs from the farm of
W. E. Trowbridge, near here, were wiped out by an epidemic of pneumo-
here today.

PROVIDING FRANCE DEFEATS PRESENT PROPOSAL

WILL SUPPORT 5 POWER PACT
LIMITING AUXILIARY
NAVAL CRAFT

RESERVE PROPOSAL CALLS FOR A 3 POWER TREATY WITH BRITAIN AND JAPAN

By LUDWELL DENNY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Coolidge has a second disarmament
Washington, Feb. 12.—President
Coolidge has a second disarmament
plan ready if France or other nations defeat his present proposal.

He will not insist on the five-power pact limiting auxiliary naval
to Great Britain, France, Japan and Italy, though he will support it so long as there is hope.

The reserve proposal calls for a three-power treaty with Great Britain and Japan limiting cruisers, destroyers and submarines to the present 5-5-3 ratio on capital ships, the United Press learned today.

Mr. Coolidge has good reason to believe the second plan would succeed—at least with certain British
reservations providing periodic tonnage revision because of French non-
adherence to the pact.

The Coolidge disarmament tactics
—as formulated by Ambassador
Hugh S. Gibson, the American arms
delegate, and approved by the president, are:

1. Make every possible concession to obtain French acceptance of the naval conference idea. This explains the substitution of Geneva
for Washington as the meeting
place. Avoid separate informal negotiations with Great Britain, which would revive the charge of an "Anglo-American combine" made by France during the Washington conference.

2. If France agrees to the conference, the United States in the deliberations will recognize the French
right to a much larger comparative
ratio in submarines than the Washington treaty accorded her in capital ships. The capital ship ratio is
5-5-3 for the United States, Great Britain and Japan, and 1.67 for France and Italy.

3. Whenever a deadlock is reached, regardless of the nation which causes it, the United States will fall
back on the basic economic financial argument. Either directly or indirectly, this government will let it
be known that no European nation
can stand the financial strain of a naval armament race without jeopardizing its monetary and social system.

4. This government is prepared to indicate in all friendliness that if
an armament race is forced upon it,
someone else will suffer.

5. Meanwhile this government will frown upon further loans to foreign nations for direct or indirect
armament use.

Officials here are so sympathetic
with the French desire for adequate protection that, they say, they cannot understand the persistence of
the French idea that the United States necessarily would vote with
the British on all conference issues
growing out of the question of British cruisers versus French submarines.

There is no disposition in official circles here to approach the difficult
disarmament question from the assumption that France is "militaristic." Officials credit France with a will-to-peace equal to that of the United States, but complicated by
security problems from which this country is free by geographical isolation.

Despite this sympathy with France
President Coolidge is opposed to the French insistence that naval armament is an inseparable part of the whole land-sea-air problem, and
should be deferred until the general
problem is solved. The president
fears general arms limitation may be a long way off, which increases
his conviction that further naval limitations is an imperative necessity of peace and economy now.

Washington, Feb. 11.—European
nations might infer that the U. S.
is insincere in its advocacy of peace
and disarmament if congress fails
to provide funds for further partici-

PROVIDES ADVANCED FARM THEORIES

Farmers Institute in Session Today is a Great Educative Force

ATTENDANCE IS LARGE

Farmers and Ladies Guests of Chamber of Commerce at Dinner Today

That the Farmers Institute is one of the greatest educative forces in the advancement of the farmer to-day, was pointed out by E. W. Smith, one of the speakers at the Farmers Institute in session today at the court house.

The Institute attracted close to 100 farmers from the surrounding territory of Brainerd and approximately 50 farm ladies attended the instructive meeting of the Baking School at the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

The Farmers Institute was organized 40 years ago by O. C. Gregg, of Lind, Minnesota, who was also the father of the Farmers Institute for the United States, the plan of the school of instruction originating in Minnesota. Mr. Gregg passed away last March at Moose Lake, Minn.

Sessions of the Institute all over the state have been held every winter since the organization. It has always been an advocate of up to date advanced methods of agriculture.

The farmers who attend the Institute in years gone by can be picked out as progressive farmers in their communities, said Mr. Smith.

Mr. Smith passed through Brainerd on an immigrant train on March 20, 46 years ago and settled in Ottertail county. He is a successful farmer and his address today on field crops, potatoes, alfalfa, silos and silage, soil fertility and crop production was most interesting.

"The Farmers Institute has helped to make a change in the last 40 years that is greater than any change that took place on the previous 250 years if not 1,000 years," said Mr. Smith.

F. W. White who also conducted instructive discussions today is one of the leading farmers of Lyon county, engaged in the production of sheep, hogs, horses, and dairy cows. His herd of 40 cows has an average yearly production of approximately 350 pounds of butter fat per cow.

The Farmers Institute session at Pequot yesterday was attended by over 100 farmers and 75 ladies at the baking school. The Commercial club of Pequot entertained at luncheon.

The Brainerd Chamber of Commerce today noon were hosts to the farmers and those in attendance at the baking school.

Smart Jersey Frock of Contrasting Materials

Two contrasting colors used diagonally give this smart Jersey frock worn by Pauline Starke, the motion picture actress, unusual chic. Inverted plaits of the contrasting colored material are used on each side. A wide patent leather belt finishes the outfit, tan and green being the color combination of the dress.

Belts Are New

Having been neglected for so long, all belts, girdles and sashes have taken on a new significance and are featured on all frocks.

NOW IT CAN BE TOLD

"Oh, daddy," said the young lady. "Mrs. Jones said you were the handsomest man on our street."
"What's that?" asked the father.
There was a brief silence, then the daughter shook her head and said "Well, I guess it's true, all right."
"What's true?" asked the father.
"That every time you compliment a man he makes you repeat it."—Christian Science Monitor.

The Flirt on the Phone

"Hello! Peggy speaking—who is this?"
"It's Frank, sweetheart."
"I can't understand you."
"Listen—F for Ferdie, R for Robert, A for Arthur, N for Nat and K for Kenneth."
"But dearest, which one of the five are you?"

TROUBLESOME VOWELS

"Can't he speak plainly? I heard him say certain vowels gave him trouble."
"Oh, he was referring to his I. O. U's."

Our Sham World

"All that glitters is not gold."
But here's the truth, though bitter. Lots of people that we know are satisfied with glitter.

His Wish Probable

They had met at a dance, and from the first moment he knew she was the one girl for him. He thought he might just tell her.

"I could face death dancing with you," he breathed.
"You probably will if my husband sees you," she answered sweetly.—Stray Stories.

His End

Doctor—Every man should have a fat; it's a mental safety valve. Better cultivate one.

Patient—I already have one.
Doctor—What is it?
Patient—Collecting unpaid bills. Perhaps you will add one, doctor.

Politeness

Old Gentleman (who has collided violently with a young man)—I beg your pardon, sir.

Young Man—Entirely my fault, sir. "Then why the blazes don't you look where you're going?"—London Opinion.

NOT PRESERVED

Sun and Fire Symbols

There are to be found occasionally upon the walls of old brick houses, at about the line of division between the first and second stories, flat pieces of iron 5 or 6 inches in length and shaped somewhat like the letter "S."

The use of these articles was clearly brought from England, where it is still continued, and there is a curious origin and meaning attached to them. The figure in question is an early symbol of the sun. It is still used in Herefordshire and other parts of England. There one is informed that the reason for the particular form of these irons is that they were made thus in order to protect the house from fire as well as from collapse.

EMILIO DE GOGORZA MARY GARDEN HANS BARTH

New York, Feb. 12.—The fourth radio program in the 1927 series of the Victor Talking Machine company will be presented on the evening of February 18, through eight stations, by three distinguished artists of concert and opera, assisted by the Victor Concert orchestra. The artists are Miss Mary Garden, soprano, of the Chicago Grand Opera company; Emilio De Gogorza, baritone, and Hans Barth, pianist. Rosario Bourdon, one of the musical directors of the Victor company, will direct the orchestra.

Beginning at 8 p. m., central standard time, the concert will be heard through stations of the "blue" network of the National Broadcasting company, and four affiliated southern stations. These stations are: WJZ, New York; WBZ, Springfield and Boston; KDKA, Pittsburgh; KYW, Chicago; WHAS, Louisville, Ky.; WSB, Atlanta; WMC, Memphis, and WSM, Nashville.

Growth of Coral Varies

Little is known regarding the rapidity of growth in corals. A specimen of Mocandrina labyrinthica measuring a foot in diameter and four inches thick in the most convex part was taken from a block of concrete at Fort Jefferson, Tortugas, which had been calculated that the average growth of a Mocandrina observed at Key West was half an inch a year.

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

Feb. 11, 1902

The Daily Dispatch has inaugurated a voting contest which will doubtless be one of the most interesting features of the coming month.

The Dispatch has purchased a private box at the Brainerd Opera house for the performance of Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew" which the well known actor, Charles B. Hanford, supported by pretty Helen Grantley will present, in this city on Monday evening, February 24. The Dispatch will present this box to the lady school teacher in the city schools receiving the largest number of votes.

The teacher receiving the largest number of votes at the end of the contest will be given the private box at the opera house and will be at liberty to invite five of her friends to take in the performance with her. Besides receiving the benefit of the performance the party will be introduced to and received by Mr. Hanford and Miss Grantley if they desire.

Miss Bertie Robinson left today for Minneapolis where she will make her home in the future. She will be greatly missed in musical circles having for years been identified with the best organizations in the city. Last night, Mrs. Fanny Smith, her sister, invited in the members of Aeolian quartet and their families in honor of Miss Robinson and a delightful evening was spent.

Mrs. Werner Hemstead went to St. Paul this afternoon to join her husband who is attending the extra session of the legislature.

Mrs. Wylie Nielson arrived in the city this afternoon from Mankato where she has been visiting and will spend some days here with her sister, Mrs. Jennie Grewcox and her son James Nielson before proceeding to her home at Valley City, N. D.

PROVIDES ADVANCED FARM THEORIES

Farmers Institute in Session Today is a Great Educative Force

Farmers and Ladies Guests of Chamber of Commerce at Dinner Today

That the Farmers Institute is one of the greatest educative forces in the advancement of the farmer to-day, was pointed out by E. W. Smith, one of the speakers at the Farmers Institute in session today at the court house.

The Institute attracted close to 100 farmers from the surrounding territory of Brainerd and approximately 50 farm ladies attended the instructive meeting of the Baking School at the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

The Farmers Institute was organized 40 years ago by O. C. Gregg, of Lind, Minnesota, who was also the father of the Farmers Institute for the United States, the plan of the school of instruction originating in Minnesota. Mr. Gregg passed away last March at Moose Lake, Minn.

Sessions of the Institute all over the state have been held every winter since the organization. It has always been an advocate of up to date advanced methods of agriculture.

The farmers who attend the Institute in years gone by can be picked out as progressive farmers in their communities, said Mr. Smith.

Mr. Smith passed through Brainerd on an immigrant train on March 20, 46 years ago and settled in Ottertail county. He is a successful farmer and his address today on field crops, potatoes, alfalfa, silos and silage, soil fertility and crop production was most interesting.

"The Farmers Institute has helped to make a change in the last 40 years that is greater than any change that took place on the previous 250 years if not 1,000 years," said Mr. Smith.

F. W. White who also conducted instructive discussions today is one of the leading farmers of Lyon county, engaged in the production of sheep, hogs, horses, and dairy cows. His herd of 40 cows has an average yearly production of approximately 350 pounds of butter fat per cow.

The Farmers Institute session at Pequot yesterday was attended by over 100 farmers and 75 ladies at the baking school. The Commercial club of Pequot entertained at luncheon.

The Brainerd Chamber of Commerce today noon were hosts to the farmers and those in attendance at the baking school.

The baking school was conducted by Miss Margaret Baker and Miss Keller, representatives of the Russell Milling Co., of Minneapolis.

Having been neglected for so long, all belts, girdles and sashes have taken on a new significance and are featured on all frocks.

Sun and Fire Symbols

There are to be found occasionally upon the walls of old brick houses, at about the line of division between the first and second stories, flat pieces of iron 5 or 6 inches in length and shaped somewhat like the letter "S."

The use of these articles was clearly brought from England, where it is still continued, and there is a curious origin and meaning attached to them. The figure in question is an early symbol of the sun. It is still used in Herefordshire and other parts of England. There one is informed that the reason for the particular form of these irons is that they were made thus in order to protect the house from fire as well as from collapse.

HIBBING'S LAKE CLAIMS

THE average Brainerd man smiles when he surveys on different highways some ten huge signs calling attention to Hibbing, "in the heart of the 10,000 lakes region." It would be more correct to say it was in the "lungs" than the "heart."

According to our geography, and there haven't been many changes since it was compiled, the immediate vicinity of Hibbing is marked by no area of extensive lakes, such as we have. There are many excavations, remains of what were pit mines, and one was pointed out to us as having been the place where a Chinaman's donkey backed into. These various irregular indentations when filled with rainwater can hardly be termed lakes. And then there is also Lake Superior, but that sheet of water is generally appropriated by Duluth.

Brainerd has 700 lakes within easy driving distance and has the maps to prove it. Brainerd would show as much sense in community advertising if it heralded to the world that it was the "heart of the biggest mining country."

We have seen the blatant Hibbing signs, three on the cement highway between Brainerd and Minneapolis, one on the Mille Lacs road and one poking its nose metaphorically speaking just two miles out of our town, at the junction of Nos. 2 and 19.

What to do? Must we spend several thousand dollars in signs and land leases and erect signs setting up the claims of our lake region?

A good thing may be to refer the claims of Brainerd as in the heart of the 10,000 lakes region and Hibbing as a recent "in the heart" of the 10,000 lakes region to the 10,000 Lakes of Minnesota Association at St. Paul and have some disinterested authority adjudicate the claims of the two towns.

ELECTION LAWS

THERE are several bills looking toward betterments in the election laws which have been introduced in the state legislature. Among these are measures reducing the long hours, measures providing for early counting of the vote and providing for other reforms.

There is urgent need for some of these things. It is all nonsense to require election judges and clerks to work for twenty-four hours or more without rest. It is foolish to keep the polls open until nine o'clock in the evening. It is silly to have to wait two or three days to know the result of election.

With modern conveniences as adding machines, telephones, telegraphs and the radio election results in this state should appear in the newspapers the morning after election.

Voters whose affairs will not permit them to reach the polls between seven in the morning and six at night should be provided with absent voters' ballots.

By all means revamp the election laws intelligently this session.—Anoka Herald.

THOSE WHO HIT AND RUN

THE sentence of a year in the Minneapolis workhouse, imposed on an automobile owner who failed to stop and give his name and car license number after an accident, should be a warning to hit-and-run drivers, who are becoming alarmingly numerous. In that case a woman who was struck by the car died, but the same penalty may be invoked for running away after any collision or mishap.

There may not be proof sufficient to convict a car owner or driver of manslaughter or even to subject him to civil damages, but if he runs away he is taking a chance of getting caught, when the hit-and-run offense may be easily established. Thus a coward may bring on himself a punishment that might have been avoided. In the particular case an attempt to prove manslaughter failed.

The punishment for running away does not relieve the offender from further prosecution or suit on account of the accident.—Minneapolis Tribune.

A DEFENDER OF MODERN FOIBLES

ONE of the most tolerant great men of America is Dr. Charles Mayo of Rochester, says the St. Peter Herald. He talks sense no matter on what subject it may be and he shows respect for the other man's ideas.

He says that the youth of today knows more of evil than his parents and for that reason is better equipped to face the problems of life. Short skirts, he claims, are all right and are far more hygienic than the old kind that swept the streets.

If women want to smoke or bob their hair, Dr. Mayo sees no reason why they should not. He has no fear of the modernistic trend and sees the good instead of the bad side of it all. Many people are prone to reflect only on the worst side and to overlook the good that the change has wrought.

THE BACK SEAT DRIVER

THE "back seat driver" is a thorn in the side of a driver. He or she in that vantage seat tells you what to do after it has happened.

In Connecticut the law has taken cognizance of the "back seat driver" and visited its displeasure upon the individual. The law has withdrawn its sanction from the passenger who takes it upon himself or herself to warn, advise and "assist" the driver of an automobile.

"A passenger in an automobile should sit still and say nothing, because any other course is fraught with danger," was the dictum of Judge Curtis in a finding written for the bench of the state supreme court.

AN odd accident causing death was that of Mrs. J. A. Hoff of Casper, Wyoming, who swallowed an open safety pin. Doctors operated within the hour, but the pin had moved, making its recovery impossible. Our idea of a housewife is a lady with a mouthful of pins, be they safety or common pins. It seems one of the rare privileges of femininity to grasp a mouthful of such articles, maintain them in perfect suspension, while she carries on half a dozen other lines of work. The death of the Wyoming lady shows the best rule has its exceptions.

WITH the constant growth of car ownership and more traffic on the highways, the LaFayette Journal and Courier says we've either got to have wider roads or rubber fences.

"NEW neighbors, Ezra," announced Mrs. Perkins. "That so? Hope we don't lose them as quick as we did the last ones."

"Maybe that was our own fault," submitted his wife. "They sort of perked up with their stiff city ways and it nettled me. You was down with that spell of rheumatism most of the time and Walden was away at school. It's lonesome and dismal to see the place next door vacant all the while. Besides, every new family we win to stay helps the town. Let us try and make this new family stay."

"Who are they?" inquired Mr. Perkins.

"Their names is Purtelle—father, mother, young lady."

"Just match us, don't they?" suggested Mr. Perkins. "Well, you're the moving spirit, Janet, and me and the boy will follow the leader."

Ned Perkins and his father humbly took heed to quite a lecture that evening. Mrs. Perkins showed that she not only had studied out a plan as to the treatment of their prospective neighbors, but had pursued certain inquiries that had resulted in the gleaming of a good deal of information regarding them.

"They never lived in a country town before, I understand," said Mrs. Perkins. "Mr. Purtelle has just retired from business and his wife has worn herself out with her social duties, fussing for company. I suppose that means. The girl is just out of school. She is in love with flowers, chickens, everything that grows and runs. They are real nice people."

"I don't doubt it, if you say so, Janet," observed her husband. "And they will be good neighbors."

"You said a young lady in the family, eh?" remarked Ned thoughtfully.

"Yes, and you be good to her—them, Ned," warned his mother.

"I will to her—them," pledged Ned, with a broad smile.

"Now the city people are slow to get acquainted with," went on Mrs. Perkins. "Don't intrude yourself. Be pleasant, but dignified. Show them all the kindness you can. Above all, do everything in your power to set them in love with the country life. Now, Ned, do spare enough time from your athletics and fishing to pay some attention to these good people."

"Mother mine," responded Ned with smugness, "I'll do just that thing, and as to the fishing—why, I'll have this Miss—Miss—"

"Miss Edna Purtelle."

"Yes, Edna, a member of the Anglers' club inside of a week!"

"Don't be too forward, Ned," warned his mother.

That evening two big vans loaded with furniture arrived, and nearly all night long their drivers were putting up shades, laying down rugs and getting the house generally in order.

It was not until after dusk the next evening that two members of the Purtelle family, mother and daughter, arrived. Ned was away fishing at the time, but his mother informed him of the circumstances upon his return.

"The father must be detained in town on business," surmised Mr. Perkins. "for he did not come with them."

Ned was up bright and early. He paced around the garden, and then hearing a swish beyond the fence, man high, that separated the two residences, noted toward it. As he tiptoed to look over, an eager, curious faced girl likewise tiptoed, with tiny feet resting on the inside stringer. She lifted to him a rosy vision of beauty.

"You was peeping, I was peeping—oh dear!" exclaimed the little maiden breathlessly, jumping down in confusion.

"Then we must be interested in one another," suggested Ned.

"Oh, I know," fluttered Edna, "they told me a boy lived next door."

"Boy?" began Ned resentfully, and then audaciously: "I am the boy next door, little girl."

Edna pouted charmingly. She was plucking at a rambler rose vine that covered the fence, reaching over it and dropped in great fragrant clusters over into the next yard.

"Oh, dear," she gasped. "I mustn't do that!"

"Why not?" he inquired.

"They're your roses."

"Not at all," declared Ned unblushingly. "The law on partition fences out here in the country is that half of it belongs to each adjoining tenant and all that hangs over it."

"Then I can pick all the roses I want?"

"Why, certainly, and come over and get as many more from our side."

"Oh, I couldn't do that without asking mother," demurred Edna, and ran into the house.

Ned was charmed! More than that, he was smitten. He managed to be at his post in the garden immediately after breakfast. He observed Edna looking wistfully towards the cherry trees at the back of the Perkins house.

"I never saw cherries grow before," she said wistfully.

"Why don't you get a basket and pick some?" he insinuated, "in your own orchard?"

"Our orchard?"

"Why, yes. That strip back of you."

is free to you. Lot law out in the country, you know?"

Edna regarded him keenly and suspiciously, but his face was an innocent blank. The audacious fellow did not explain to Edna that it was a continuation of the Perkins lot that went around the new neighbor's domain.

She went wild with delight as he got a stepladder, held the basket and let her pick the ripe, bursting globes in "her orchard." In fact, up till nearly noon they were together and Ned forgot all about his fishing.

Later that day a coop of chickens arrived. Edna called over the fence to know if Ned couldn't come over and get the new arrivals into the chicken house. This led to an introduction to Mrs. Purtelle, who showed herself well pleased with the young man.

"And when will there be some eggs? When do the chickens lay most?" fluttered Edna.

"Why—well, night times mostly," reported Ned unflinchingly.

"Then there will be some fresh eggs for breakfast in the morning!" cried Edna delightedly.

There was, notwithstanding that Ned had discovered that the imported brood consisted mostly of roosters. In the morning with a scream of wild joy Edna discovered nearly two dozen eggs, surreptitiously placed in the nests before daylight by the obliging Ned.

Again a day of rare companionship. Cupid forging the chains closer and closer as the sunny hours went by. Then Edna was full of the theme of the little chicks. A "setting" was duly provided for by Ned.

"And when will the little darlings be ripe?" inquired the eager novice in rural ways.

"Well," responded Ned slowly with cold devoted serenity, "with warm weather, by morning."

"Oh, I shall be awake at daylight!" declared the excited enthusiast.

"So will I!" voted Ned, and he was. At the weird hour of midnight he had substituted a new brood of their own for the setting.

Mr. Purtelle arrived at the end of the week. He stared hard at Edna, as she introduced Ned, as if he were some old-time chum. Then there was a closer acquaintance of the members of the family all around. One day the truant pair came home consciously flustered.

"I asked her and I love her," Ned told Mr. Purtelle promptly.

"Humph!" growled Mr. Purtelle, good naturedly enough, "and what about the false pretenses of cherries, eggs and the like?"

"Oh, that shows his kind disposition, papa!" chirped Edna. "I saw through the humbug of his 'lot law' and twelve-hour chickens all the time, but he was so obliging—so anxious to please me, that I led him on because—why, because," acknowledged the blushing maid, "I—I loved him."

Remains of Synagogue in Ruins of Capernaum

Conspicuous among the ruins of Capernaum of the present day standing at the water's edge, are sculptured blocks of white limestone in sharp contrast with the surrounding fragments of black basalt. Partially buried by the debris of ages, disfigured further by the incessant thefts of people seeking limestone for their kilns, the large white edifice greatly attracted the attention of the members of the Palestine exploration fund survey some half century or more ago.

Careful investigation and much difficult work at length revealed the ground plan of a Jewish synagogue, like nine others discovered in the Holy land, rectangular, longest north and south, and divided into five aisles by four rows of pillars, three entrances being at the south end, a large central one with smaller ones on either side. Over the lintels above the doors there is always cut into the stone some characteristic Jewish emblem, a seven-branched candelstick, a Paschal lamb, vine leaves with grapes, etc.

Some of the larger blocks, including beautiful capitals of the overturned pillars remain intact. Captain (afterward Colonel) Wilson of the Palestine fund survey one day overturned a large cut stone and found sculptured into its face a representation of the pot of manna ordered by God to be placed in the ark of the covenant.

There would appear to be no reasonable doubt but that it was the lintel over the door of the synagogue the kindly centurion built for the people of Capernaum, now a mass of ruins. Probably it was to that very carving Jesus pointed while preaching in that same building saying: "I am that bread of life. Your fathers did eat manna in the wilderness and are dead." (John 6.)

New Silk Process

The Department of Commerce has received a report from Berlin stating that a German inventor has perfected a process by which the chitin or bony structure of lobster and crab shells can be converted into artificial silk. According to the inventor himself, chitin can be brought into a solution and passed through a filter press and then drawn into artificial silk threads which have a much greater tensile strength than cellulose silk.

Boy Scouts Increase

In the United States as well as in England, the boy scout movement is growing to enormous proportions. At this time there are about 800,000 registered boy scouts in good standing in the United States. The movement, not only interests the boys themselves, but it has been the means of interesting many parents and other adults in scout activities.

Richard Dix and Betty Bronson in the Gregory La Cava Production "Paradise for Two" A Paramount Picture

Newest Dix Comedy Has Drama and Laughs

"Paradise for Two," Richard Dix newest comedy-drama, arrives at the Lyceum theatre Sunday.

Dix has an especially strong supporting cast in this picture. Betty Bronson is featured as Sally Lane, the pretty little stage struck girl who poses as his wife to help him collect a legacy of which his uncle Howard (Edmund Breese) is the trustee. Andre Beranger as Maurice, the theatrical producer lives up to his reputation of comedian de luxe.

It was their first quarrel, and it lasted longer than post-homonymy spats generally do. But finally it was over, and the wife was condescending to a friend.

"It was terrible while it lasted," she said, "but it was worth it. Just look at the fur piece John gave me."

"Ah!" exclaimed the friend, surveying the gift, "a cloud with a silver fox lining."

HIBBING'S LAKE CLAIMS

THE average Brainerd man smiles when he surveys on different highways some ten huge signs calling attention to Hibbing, "in the heart of the 10,000 lakes region." It would be more correct to say it was in the "lungs" than the "heart".

According to our geography, and there haven't been many changes since it was compiled, the immediate vicinity of Hibbing is marked by no area of extensive lakes, such as we have. There are many excavations, remains of what were pit mines, and one was pointed out to us as having been the place where a Chinaman's donkey backed into. These various irregular indentations when filled with rainwater can hardly be termed lakes. And then there is also Lake Superior, but that sheet of water is generally appropriated by Duluth.

Brainerd has 700 lakes within easy driving distance and has the maps to prove it. Brainerd would show as much sense in community advertising if it heralded to the world that it was the "heart of the biggest mining country".

We have seen the blatant Hibbing signs, three on the cement highway between Brainerd and Minneapolis, one on the Mille Lacs road and one poking its nose metaphorically speaking just two miles out of our town, at the junction of Nos. 2 and 19.

What to do? Must we spend several thousand dollars in signs and land leases and erect signs setting up the claims of our lake region?

A good thing may be to refer the claims of Brainerd as in the heart of the 10,000 lakes region and Hibbing as a recent "in the heart" of the 10,000 lakes region to the 10,000 Lakes of Minnesota Association at St. Paul and have some disinterested authority adjudicate the claims of the two towns.

ELECTION LAWS

THERE are several bills looking toward betterments in the election laws which have been introduced in the state legislature. Among these are measures reducing the long hours, measures providing for early counting of the vote and providing for other reforms.

There is urgent need for some of these things. It is all nonsense to require election judges and clerks to work for twenty-four hours or more without rest. It is foolish to keep the polls open until nine o'clock in the evening. It is silly to have to wait two or three days to know the result of election.

With modern conveniences as adding machines, telephones, telegraphs and the radio election results in this state should appear in the newspapers the morning after election.

Voters whose affairs will not permit them to reach the polls between seven in the morning and six at night should be provided with absent voters' ballots.

By all means revamp the election laws intelligently this session.—Anoka Herald.

THOSE WHO HIT AND RUN

THE sentence of a year in the Minneapolis workhouse, imposed on an automobile owner who failed to stop and give his name and car license number after an accident, should be a warning to hit-and-run drivers, who are becoming alarmingly numerous. In that case a woman who was struck by the car died, but the same penalty may be invoked for running away after any collision or mishap.

There may not be proof sufficient to convict a car owner or driver of manslaughter or even to subject him to civil damages, but if he runs away he is taking a chance of getting caught, when the hit-and-run offense may be easily established. Thus a coward may bring on himself a punishment that might have been avoided. In the particular case an attempt to prove manslaughter failed.

The punishment for running away does not relieve the offender from further prosecution or suit on account of the accident.—Minneapolis Tribune.

A DEFENDER OF MODERN FOIBLES

ONE of the most tolerant great men of America is Dr. Charles Mayo of Rochester, says the St. Peter Herald. He talks sense no matter on what subject it may be and he shows respect for the other man's ideas.

He says that the youth of today knows more of evil than his parents and for that reason is better equipped to face the problems of life. Short skirts, he claims, are all right and are far more hygienic than the old kind that swept the streets.

If women want to smoke or bob their hair, Dr. Mayo sees no reason why they should not. He has no fear of the modernistic trend and sees the good instead of the bad side of it all. Many people are prone to reflect only on the worst side and to overlook the good that the change has wrought.

THE BACK SEAT DRIVER

THE "back seat driver" is a thorn in the side of a driver. He or she in that vantage seat tells you what to do after it has happened.

In Connecticut the law has taken cognizance of the "back seat driver" and visited its displeasure upon the individual. The law has withdrawn its sanction from the passenger who takes it upon himself or herself to warn, advise and "assist" the driver of an automobile.

"A passenger in an automobile should sit still and say nothing, because any other course is fraught with danger," was the dictum of Judge Curtis in a finding written for the bench of the state supreme court.

AN odd accident causing death was that of Mrs. J. A. Hoff of Casper, Wyoming, who swallowed an open safety pin. Doctors operated within the hour, but the pin had moved, making its recovery impossible. Our idea of a housewife is a lady with a mouthful of pins, be they safety or common pins. It seems one of the rare privileges of femininity to grasp a mouthful of such articles, maintain them in perfect suspension, while she carries on half a dozen other lines of work. The death of the Wyoming lady shows the best rule has its exceptions.

WITH the constant growth of car ownership and more traffic on the highways, the LaFayette Journal and Courier says we've either got to have wider roads or rubber fences.

THE MOVING SPIRIT

By GEORGE E. COBB

(Copyright by W. G. Chapman.)

"NEIGHBORS, EZRA," announced Mrs. Perkins. "That so? Hope we don't lose them as quick as we did the last ones."

"Maybe that was our own fault," submitted his wife. "They sort of perked up with their stiff city ways and it nettled me. You was down with that spell of rheumatism most of the time and Walden was away at school. It's lonesome and dismal to see the place next door vacant all the while. Besides, every new family we win to stay helps the town. Let us try and make this new family stay."

TY COBB PLANS BEING IN WORLD SERIES

PICKS ATHLETICS TO BE IN THE GAME FINALS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, Feb. 12. — Ty Cobb, who went to the Philadelphia Athletics for a $75,000 contract (which big baseball men say ain't so), says he is going to play in the world's series.

Rogers Hornsby, who left a job and $100,000 worth of St. Louis Cardinals to come to New York for $40,000 a year, says that the Giants are going to win the pennant.

So, as Jack Hendricks, the Chestersfield of the Cincinnati Reds, says— "what's the use to play it out."

Cobb, after signing the contract offered him by Connie Mack, confided in friends that he would have joined the Athletics even if he had been offered less money than the Athletics could pay.

"I picked the team I think is going to win the pennant as I want to finish my career in another world series," Cobb said. So he apparently thinks that the A's are in.

Hornsby didn't have any choice in coming to the Giants. He was given passage from St. Louis and he had to go to McGraw or nowhere. "Why shouldn't I prefer the Giants?" he asked. "Its good money I'm getting and there's a cut of the world's series dough coming."

Although there is the mere matter of 454 games and the Yankees and the Indians between the Athletics and the pennant and the same long stretch and the Cardinals and the Reds and the Pirates and the Cubs in front of the Giants, the two clubs are the most strengthened in the two leagues.

Players are notoriously poor as pickers of winners and the judgement of Cobb and Hornsby will not cause a charge of Philadelphia and New York money on the winter books but they look like good shots.

Since he stuck his head out of the second division last September, McGraw has strengthened the Giants by the addition of Rogers Hornsby, Eddie Roush, Burley Grimes, George Harper, Bevo Lebourveau, and Al Devormer. Perhaps some of them look like bargains but Hornsby, Roush and Grimes would strengthen any ball club.

McGraw, according to intimation coming from the offices of the Giants, is not through trading yet and he may make a deal for an experienced catcher. He has more outfielders than two teams could use and they are all above the fair grade.

The Brooklyn club has more first string catchers than can be worked and it would not be a surprise if McGraw made a trade with Robinson for either Henline, O'Neill or Harpkeaves.

The only weakness on the Giant club apparent to the naked eye is behind the bat and McGraw, who seems to be desperately intent for another pennant, hardly will start the season with a hole back of the plate.

There is a question about the pitching staff—but mention one staff that is beyond question.

Connie Mack, falling several times by a nose with a young team that blew up in the pinch, decided to get some age and experience for the Athletics this year and he proceeded to sign up Ty Cobb, Eddie Collins and Zach Wheat.

He also paid a lot of money for Joe Boley, a shortstop from the Baltimore Internationals, and for Dudley Brannom, a young first baseman from the Kansas City American association club.

Smart baseball men admit the strength of the Athletics but they caution—there are too many managers on the club—Mack, Gleason, Cobb and Collins and a rookie on first base.

The Giants and the Athletics do look good but they have to play it out.

Niles Wins Figure-Skating Championship

New York.—Nathaniel W. Niles of Boston won the men's senior figure-skating championship of the United States at the Iceland rink here last night; the women's senior title was annexed by Miss Beatrice Leachman of New York.

Western Conference Cage Contests
Chicago—Four western conference basketball contests are up for decision tonight, with Illinois playing Iowa at Iowa City ranking as the most important of the games. Chicago plays Wisconsin at Madison; Purdue plays Ohio State at Columbus and Northwestern goes to Minneapolis to struggle with Minnesota for the cellar championship.

BRAINERD 30, PINE RIVER 11

Three Minnesota Captains

Eldon Mason, basketball; Jim Hill, swimming, and Phil Scott, hockey, are three of Minnesota's star athletes. Each captain the team he plays on. Mason plays a guard. Hill is national inter-collegiate backstroke champion. Scott, a star defense player, has been one of the mainstays of Minnesota's champion hockey team for the past two years.

HOPPE OUTSCORES COCHRAN 3 TO 1

WORLD'S 18.2 BILLIARD CHAMPION TOOK LEAD LAST NIGHT

Boston, Feb. 12.—(UP)—Outscoring Welker Cochran of Hollywood, Calif., more than three to one, Willie Hoppe, world's 18.2 billiard champion took the lead in their title match here last night.

Starting the second block on the under side of a 50-34 score, the veteran champion playing brilliant billiards, quickly overtook the challenger, leading at the end of the block, 1,999 to 795.

In the seventh inning, Hoppe made a run of 154, and his average for the block was 44. Hoppe also made runs of 152 and 112, while his opponent's high run was 77.

The final block will be played to-night.

CRUCKSHANK TAKES SOUTH CENTRAL OPEN GOLF TOURNAMENT

Hot Springs, Ark., Feb. 12.—(UP)—Bobby Cruickshank, diminutive Scot, captured the south central open golf tournament here yesterday to win a $1,000 prize and his third golf crown of the current season. He traveled the 72 holes with 294 strokes.

Cruickshank's upstart flight was marked by a display of brilliant golf on the last 18 holes. A drizzle of rain gave the fairways a new wetting and a cold north wind came in to help him. Bobby turned in a 10 to win last up.

Frank Walsh, Appleton, Wis., dark horse, who finished Thursday's play in the lead was runner up with a 309. Joe Turnesa of Elmford, N. Y.; Al Watrous, Grand Rapids; Tom Kerrigan, Mt. Vernon, N. Y., and Cyril Walker tied for third place 301. Joe Kirkwood and Bill Creavey of Larchmont, N. Y., had 302's.

The amateur prize was awarded to John W. Dawson who went the rounds in 314.

NO TRADE PACT REACHED BETWEEN CARDS AND REDS

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 12.—(UP)—No trade agreement has been reached as yet by President Sam Breadon of the St. Louis Cardinals who has been conferring with officials of the Cincinnati Reds with a view to swapping baseball players. Breadon said here today.

Breadon talked over long distance with Gerry Herrmann, head of the Reds, last night, but they came to no agreement. Breadon has admitted that he is trying to sign up Adolfo Luque, pitcher, and Wallie Pipp, first baseman, but he refused to say whom he was considering as trading matter for the two.

Breadon said the deal will be under consideration for several days yet.

PENNANT BUYING COMPLAINT EXPLODED

(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Feb. 12.—Failure of the New York Yankees to secure the contract of Tris Speaker by an open market explodes what is left of the old complaint that the rich teams in the major leagues can buy pennants.

If the Yankees had been able to sign one of the greatest outfielders of all time it would not have meant necessarily that they were trying to buy the pennant because the management of the club admitted that there was no real need for his services as a player.

In fact the Yankees admitted that they didn't know what they would do with Speaker if they did land him beyond admitting that he would be a valuable man to have around for a pinch hit or in case of accidents.

But if the Yankees had secured Speaker under these circumstances the owners of the rival clubs would have been justified in complaining that the Yankees were using their money to prevent their opposition from being strengthened and by a back hand argument that might be construed as being the same thing as buying a pennant.

The point, however, is that the Yankees, with more money than any two clubs in the league, were not able to buy Speaker's contract.

This does not prove, of course, the theory that pennants can't be bought as it was Speaker's professional pride more than the desire for a bonus or salary that made Washington's offer more attractive to him than that of the Yankees.

We don't know of any other player in baseball who would turn down the chance to play in New York for a big bonus and a large salary and the promise of a cut of world's series money.

Speaker said he didn't want to sign with any club for the job of a substitute and a bench warmer. And perhaps there was more real pride than that behind his decision to accept a regular playing position in the Washington outfield.

The Yankees, as they are now constituted, are favorites to win another American league pennant and every baseball observer knows that the Yankees ought to win without Speaker.

Bucky Harris, youthful manager of the Senators, believing that Speaker was just the man to make the team, told his boss to get the former Cleveland manager at any price.

The Senators, before securing Speaker, were not regarded as being highly dangerous but with the "Spoke" in centerfield they are a sure contender.

Under these circumstances, Speaker will get a major portion of the credit if Washington should win the pennant and then he would be in a fine position to give the Cleveland club the laugh.

Twisting around the argument it might be charged that Washington wants to buy the pennant but the circumstances do not justify the charge. The deal that brought Speaker to Washington was not like the various deals that transferred practically every star of the Boston Red Sox to the Yankees several years ago. No other club had a chance to get in on those deals.

But the other seven clubs in the league were given the privilege of bidding in the open market when Cleveland announced that Speaker was a free agent and could go where he pleased.

The same applies to Ty Cobb.

There were only a few clubs when the New York Giants secured Rogers Hornsby from the St. Louis Cardinals. Perhaps the other clubs have tired of bidding the Giants for the use of money or it may be that the experts did not believe that Hornsby would be the means of pulling the Giants out of the second division into first place.

While they may be some cracks about their motives, the action of the Cleveland and Detroit clubs in securing Speaker and Cobb free agents will refute some of the charges of commercialized baseball.

The Cleveland and Detroit clubs could have sold the contracts of their star outfielders for a big sum if they could have secured some valuable players in a trade but, whatever the real reason, they turned them loose and gave them the chance to negotiate for a bonus and a new contract.

It might be that the American league owners decided that Cleveland and Detroit, to refute any charge that they had given the two players a raw deal, were ordered to make a sacrifice of money as a gesture of apology to the players.

ROLLS UP ITS 2ND VICTORY OVER OPPONENTS

CAPTAIN FITZHARRIS MADE SIX FIELD GOALS THROUGHOUT EVENING

BRAINERD PLAYS BEMIDJI AT BEMIDJI ON FEBRUARY 15

The Brainerd high school basketball team is continuing in its championship march with its conference games and last night rolled up its second victory over Pine River by the overwhelming score of 30-11.

Captain Fitzharris rolled in basket after basket, making six field goals throughout the evening. Brainerd outplayed their opponents in every respect though Pine River showed a reversal of form from its previous appearance on the local floor. No brilliant playing was displayed by either team but it was interesting to watch Brainerd pile up 19 points in the last half to Pine River's 6.

Other Games

Crosby won from Wadena last night on the home floor, 39-21. Lester Peterson of Brainerd refereeing the game. Both quints have been leading this season and the outcome of the game was in doubt. Aitkin won from Staples, 24-23. Lawrence Erickson refereeing. Three overtime periods were necessary to decide the final winner.

Brainerd plays Bemidji at Bemidji Tuesday, Feb. 15, and Friday will meet its Waterloo with Aitkin here. If Aitkin wins, it will tie Crosby for leading honors, while if Brainerd wins, Crosby will tie with Wadena for district glory. The locals defeated Aitkin earlier in the season, 14-9, and due to the closeness of the score the Blue and White anticipate a stiff fight.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LEAGUES START PLAY ON MONDAY

SCHEDULES ARRANGED FOR INTERMEDIATE AND JUNIOR LEAGUES

PETERSON CLOTHING CO. AND J. C. PENNEY CO. DONATE TROPHIES

The play in the Sunday school basketball leagues will start on Monday night, with a junior game and an intermediate game being played. All games will be played at the Y. M. C. A. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of each week, continuing for three weeks.

Four teams have entered each league, the intermediate group being composed of the Evangelical, Methodist, First Baptist, and Finnish Lutheran teams, while the Junior group contains the Bethlehem Lutheran, last year's champions, Presbyterian, Methodist, and Evangelical teams.

Silver trophy cups have been offered by the Peterson Clothing Co. and the J. C. Penney Co. for the champions in the two divisions, that of the Peterson Clothing Co. being awarded to the Junior division winners, and that of the J. C. Penney Co. to the Intermediate winners.

The first game on each night will be between two junior teams, beginning at 7 o'clock, six minute quarters being played, while the Intermediate game will follow immediately, eight minute quarters. The games are open to anyone interested without charge or collection. All persons, both men and women, are invited to attend.

The age limits of the teams were set at 13 for juniors and 17 for intermediates, except in the case of any who played in the league last year. These may be changed above the age limit for boys who on the first of the present calendar year were members of a Sunday school and attending regularly are eligible to compete for that school.

The following is the schedule of games:

Monday, Feb. 14—Evangelical vs Methodist Juniors.
Evangelical vs First Baptist Intermediate.

Tuesday, Feb. 15—
Presby. vs Beth. Luth. Juniors.

FAST SQUAD HERE FOR GAME WITH REVAMPED RAINBOWS FIVE

LOCALS EXPECTED OUT OF THEIR SLUMP WITH ENGBRETSON IN FINE KETTLE

The only basketball game of the week on the Brainerd floor will draw a capacity house tonight at the high school, with the Rainbows taking on the fast Cold Springs five in a game that should prove a thriller. Cold Springs hasn't hesitated to tell the world that they have a great team. Last fall they tried to get other fives in this section to make up a professional basketball league, but no other cared to join with them.

Cold Springs comes to Brainerd with a victory under their belts over the Hopkins Independents, a boast that few teams in the state can make. They recently took the measure of the Hopkinites by a 22 to 16 score. Their team is made up of college men, plenty fast, and assuring Brainerd fans a good enough game to look at.

The preliminary game will find the Little Tigers and Flying Aces Juniors crossing swords and paths once more. In their last encounter the Flying Aces midgets emerged victorious out of a 20 to 19 game, the Tigers coming up in the last minute with two field goals by Marshall to almost take the game.

The games tonight will be at 7:45 for the preliminary, with the big game starting at 8:30 P. M. Admission will be twenty-five cents and thirty-five cents. Fans will see plenty of action, a fast, close preliminary and two shifty fives playing a thriller for the evening's feature.

Defends Shift Play

Dr. H. L. Williams, father of the celebrated Minnesota shift, out of which grew virtually all forms of shift plays used in modern football, refuses to use one get offensive weapon of days gone by outlawed without a fight. The former Minnesota coach has assembled evidence supporting his contention that the shift, properly handled, not only is legal, but also is an essential part of football as played today.

Doctor Williams shows motion pictures of his shift play as used back in his brilliant days at Minnesota.

ALVIN FOX WINS BOYS' DOG DERBY

12 YEAR OLD BOY DRIVING "TRIPP" COVERED SPEED-WAY IN GOOD TIME

SECOND PLACE WON BY LLOYD COIN; THIRD TAKEN BY LEO TURCOTTE

Second place was won by Lloyd Coin who raced a Shepherd dog. Third place was taken by Leo Turcotte driving "Jerry." Fourth place was taken by Lloyd Ebenger, driving "Tripp II." Fifth prize was won by Francis McCullough driving "Bruce" and sixth place was won by Ralph Purdy driving "Shep."

Other entries were August Misa, Irvin Riffenrath, George Bahr, Arthur Gallagher, Joe Lutz, Robert Halvorson, Eddie Vaars, Francis Bingham, Robert Patterson, Robert Johnson.

All boys who took part in the race this afternoon are requested to meet at the Lyceum theatre tonight where they will be given free tickets to the show and also receive the prizes awarded.

Alvin Fox wins the trip to Duluth to compete in the boys dog derby there next Saturday for state honors.

The derby was witnessed by hundreds of Brainerd citizens who crowded the course on South Broadway from Oak street to Laurel street. It was sponsored by the American Legion Dog Derby committee of which Basil T. Heath was chairman. Officials at the race this afternoon: Mayor P. E. Little, Bert Orne and Basil T. Heath.

TIPS ON HOCKEY AND SKATING

Skill Must Be Acquired From Actual Practice.

"Connie" Smythe, coach of the University of Toronto intercollegiate hockey champions of 1925, gives expert advice on skating and hockey in the American Boy Magazine.

Some of the skating and hockey tips taken from his article, "Get Out on the Ice," follow:

"The way to become a whirlwind hockey player, a world-beating speed merchant or a breath-taking fancy skater, is to get out and skate. No book can beat a bump for teaching you how to handle yourself on the ice. Skill in skating, like skill in any other sport, comes from practice.

"If you want to become a hockey player, get out with the gang and play shabby. If you want to develop speed, get the bunch together for a game of 'tag' or 'I Got It.' If you want to become a fancy skater, watch other people, and try everything they do."

"There are three kinds of skates from which to choose: the speed skate, the hockey type and the fancy kind. The hockey skate curves slightly at the front and back and is short so as to permit quick turning. The fancy skate is short, like the hockey, but has several saw teeth on the upward curve, in front, to allow you to stand on your toes, or get a quick push-off.

"The best general-purpose skate is the hockey kind. The long, speed skate is difficult for the beginner to master, because it's heavy, and not designed for sudden turns and stops. The saw teeth on the fancy skate aren't necessary for the beginner. He'd better start on the hockey skate, and get boots that will feel comfortably tight with medium weight wool socks.

"Now for the quick stop. Full tilt down the ice you're coming, headed straight for the shore, going lickety-split. At 15 yards from the shore you're still traveling at top speed. Now what? A wild sprawl and a skinned nose? Not much. Turn sideways, dig the edges of your skates into the ice and lean backwards. That's all. After you've got the hang of it, you'll be able to stop in an instant."

TY COBB PLANS BEING IN WORLD SERIES

PICKS ATHLETICS TO BE IN THE GAME FINALS

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, Feb. 12.—Ty Cobb, who went to the Philadelphia Athletics for a $75,000 contract (which big baseball men say ain't so), says he is going to play in the world's series.

Rogers Hornsby, who left a job and $100,000 worth of St. Louis Cardinals to come to New York for $40,000 a year, says that the Giants are going to win the pennant.

So, as Jack Hendricks, the Chestnutfield of the Cincinnati Reds, says—"what's the use to play it out?" Cobb, after signing the contract offered him by Connie Mack, confided in friends that he would have joined the Athletics even if he had been offered less money than the Athletics could pay.

"I picked the team I think is going to win the pennant as I want to finish my career in another world series," Cobb said. So he apparently thinks that the A's are in.

Hornsby didn't have any choice in coming to the Giants. He was given passage from St. Louis and he had to go to McGraw or nowhere. "Where shouldn't I prefer the Giants?" he asked. "It's good money, but getting and there's a cut of the world's series dough coming."

Although there is the mere matter of 154 games and the Yankees and the Indians between the Athletics and the pennant and the same long stretch and the Cardinals and the Reds and the Pirates and the Cubs in front of the Giants, the two clubs are the most strengthened in the two leagues.

Players are notoriously poor at pickers of winners and the judgment of Cobb and Hornsby will not cause a charge of Philadelphia and New York money on the winter books but they look like good shots.

Since he stuck his head out of the second division last September, McGraw has strengthened the Giants by the addition of Rogers Hornsby, Eddie Roush, Burley Grimes, George Harper, Bevo Lebourveau, and Al Devormer. Perhaps some of them look like bargains but Hornsby, Roush and Grimes would strengthen any ball club.

McGraw, according to intimation coming from the offices of the Giants, is not through trading yet and he may make a deal for an experienced catcher. He has more outfielders than two teams could use and they are all above the fair grade.

The Brooklyn club has more first string catchers than can be worked and it would not be a surprise if McGraw made a trade with Robinson for either Henline, O'Neil or Hargreaves.

The only weakness on the Giant club apparent to the naked eye is behind the bat and McGraw, who seems to be desperately intent for another pennant, hardly will start the season with a hole back of the plate.

There is a question about the pitching staff—but mention one staff that is beyond question.

Connie Mack, falling several times by a nose with a young team that blew up in the pinch, decided to get some age and experience for the Athletics this year and he proceeded to sign up Ty Cobb, Eddie Collins and Zach Wheat.

He also paid a lot of money for Joe Boley, a shortstop from the Baltimore Internationals, and for Dudley Brannan, a young first baseman from the Kansas City American association club.

Smart baseball men admit the strength of the Athletics but they caution—there are too many managers on the club—Mack, Gleason, Cobb and Collins and a rookie on first base.

The Giants and the Athletics do look good but they have to play it out.

Captain Fitzharris rolled in six field goals throughout the evening. Brainerd outplayed their opponents in every respect though Pine River showed a reversal of form from its previous appearance on the local floor. No brilliant playing was displayed by either team but it was interesting to watch Brainerd pile up 19 points in the last half to Pine River's 6.

Other Games

Crosby won from Wadena last night on the home floor, 39-21. Lester Peterson of Brainerd refereeing the game. Both quints have been leading this season and the outcome of the game was in doubt. Aitkin won from Staples, 24-23. Lawrence Eriksen refereeing. Three overtime periods were necessary to decide the final winner.

Brainerd plays Bemidji at Bemidji Tuesday, Feb. 15, and Friday will meet its Waterloo with Aitkin here. If Aitkin wins, it will tie Crosby for leading honors, while if Brainerd wins, Crosby will tie with Wadena for district glory. The locals defeated Aitkin earlier in the season, 14-9, and due to the closeness of the score the Blue and White anticipate a stiff fight.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LEAGUES START PLAY ON MONDAY

PETERSON CLOTHING CO. AND J. C. PENNEY CO. DONATE TROPHIES

The play in the Sunday school basketball leagues will start on Monday night, with a junior game and an intermediate game being played. All games will be played at the Y. M. C. A. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of each week, continuing for three weeks.

Four teams have entered each league, the Intermediate group being composed of the Evangelical, Methodist, First Baptist, and Finnish Lutheran teams, while the Junior group contains the Bethlehem Lutheran, last year's champions, Presbyterian, Methodist, and Evangelical teams.

Silver trophy cups have been offered by the Peterson Clothing Co. and the J. C. Penney Co. for the champions in the two divisions, that of the Peterson Clothing Co. being awarded to the Junior division winners, and that of the J. C. Penney Co. to the Intermediate winners.

The first game on each night will be between two junior teams, beginning at 7 o'clock, six minute quarters being played, while the Intermediate game will follow immediately, eight minute quarters. The games are open to anyone interested without charge or collection. All persons, both men and women, are invited to attend.

The age limits of the teams were set at 13 for juniors and 17 for intermediates, except in the case of any who played in the league last year. These may be raised above the age limit for boys who on the first of the present calendar year were members of a Sunday school and attending regularly are eligible to compete for that school.

The following is the schedule of games.

LOCALS EXPECTED OUT OF THEIR SLUMP WITH ENGBRETSON IN FINE KETTLE

The only basketball game of the week on the Brainerd floor will draw a capacity house tonight at the high school, with the Rainbows taking on the fast Cold Springs five in a game that should prove a thriller. Cold Springs hasn't hesitated to tell the world that they have a great team. Last fall they tried to get other fives in this section to make up a professional basketball league, but no other cared to join with them.

Cold Springs comes to Brainerd with a victory under their belts over the Hopkins Independents, a boast that few teams in the state can make. They recently took the measure of the Hopkins by a 22 to 16 score. Their team is made up of college men, plenty fast, and assuring Brainerd fans a good enough game to look at.

The preliminary game will find the Little Tigers and Flying Aces Juniors crossing swords and paths once more. In their last encounter the Flying Aces midlets emerged victorious out of a 20 to 19 game, the Tigers coming up in the last minute with two field goals by Marshall to almost take the game.

The games tonight will be at 7:45 for the preliminary, with the big game starting at 8:30 P. M. Admission will be twenty-five cents and thirty-five cents. Fans will see plenty of action, a fast, close preliminary and two shifty fives playing a thriller for the evening's feature.

Defends Shift Play

Dr. H. L. Williams, father of the celebrated Minnesota shift, out of which grew virtually all forms of shift plays used in modern football, refuses to use his pet offensive weapon of days gone by outlawed without a fight. The former Minnesota coach has assembled evidence supporting his contention that the shift, properly handled, not only is legal, but also is an essential part of football as played to-day.

Doctor Williams shows motion pictures of his shift play as used back in his brilliant days at Minnesota.

Human Nature Never Changes

And what a delightful life these invalids lead! They are always doctoring and increasing and complicating their disorders and always fancying they will be cured by some nostrum which somebody advises them to try; and the interesting thing is that they deem him their worst enemy who tells them the truth.—From Plato's "Republic."

ALVIN FOX WINS BOYS' DOG DERBY

12 YEAR OLD BOY DRIVING "TRIPP" COVERED SPEED-WAY IN GOOD TIME

SECOND PLACE WON BY LLOYD COIN; THIRD TAKEN BY LEO TURCOTTE

"Tripp," curly haired brown water spaniel dog owned and raced by Alvin Fox 12 years old won first place in the Boys Dog Derby this afternoon. He was also the winner of the boys dog derby in Brainerd last year.

Second place was won by Lloyd Coin who raced a Shepherd dog. Third place was taken by Leo Turcotte driving "Jerry." Fourth place was taken by Lloyd Ebenger, driving "Tripp II." Fifth prize was won by Francis McCullough driving "Bruce" and sixth place was won by Ralph Purdy driving "Shep."

Other entries were August Miss, Irvin Riffenrath, George Bahr, Arthur Gallagher, Joe Lutz, Robert Halvorson, Eddie Vaars, Francis Bingham, Robert Patterson, Robert Johnson.

All boys who took part in the race this afternoon are requested to meet at the Lyceum theatre tonight where they will be given free tickets to the show and also receive the prizes awarded.

Alvin Fox wins the trip to Duluth to compete in the boys dog derby there next Saturday for state honors. The derby was witnessed by hundreds of Brainerd citizens who crowded the course on South Broadway from Oak street to Laurel street. It was sponsored by the American Legion Dog Derby committee of which Basil T. Heath was chairman. Officials at the race this afternoon: Mayor F. E. Little, Bert Orne and Basil T. Heath.

TIPS ON HOCKEY AND SKATING

Skill Must Be Acquired From Actual Practice.

"Connie" Smythe, coach of the University of Toronto intercollegiate hockey champions of 1925, gives expert advice on skating and hockey in the American Boy Magazine.

Some of the skating and hockey tips taken from his article, "Get Out on the Ice," follow:

"The way to become a whirlwind hockey player, a world-beating speed merchant or a breath-taking fancy skater, is to get out and skate. No book can beat a bump for teaching you how to handle yourself on the ice. Skill in skating, like skill in any other sport, comes from practice.

"If you want to become a hockey player, get out with the gang and play shinny. If you want to develop speed, get the bunch together for a game of tag or 'I Got It.' If you want to become a fancy skater, watch other people, and try everything they do."

"There are three kinds of skates from which to choose: the speed skate, the hockey type and the fancy kind. The hockey skate curves slightly at the front and back and is short so as to permit quick turning. The fancy skate is short, like the hockey, but has several saw teeth on the upward curve, in front, to allow you to stand on your toes, or get a quick push-off.

"The best general-purpose skate is the hockey kind. The long, speed skate is difficult for the beginner to master, because it's heavy, and not designed for sudden turns and stops. The saw teeth on the fancy skate aren't necessary for the beginner. He'd better start on the hockey skate, and get boots that will feel comfortably tight with medium weight wool socks.

"The racer or hockey player starts crouched over, with his left side pointing in the direction he is going. At the gun he jumps sideways, throwing his left foot out, and at the same time bringing his right foot up. He pushes off the edge of his skate instead of the toe. After his initial leap, he brings the right foot over the left and follows this with several side steps, still using the edge of his skates for traction, until he has gained speed enough to take a forward stride. When you make this kind of a start, remember not to have your feet too far apart. Keep them under you so that you can get a good push-off for your first leap.

"Now for the quick stop. Full tilt down the ice you're coming, headed straight for the shore, going lickety-split. At 15 yards from the shore you're still traveling at top speed. Now what? A wild sprawl and a skinned nose? Not much. Turn sideways, dig the edges of your skates into the ice and lean backwards. That's all. After you've got the hang of it, you'll be able to stop in an instant."

DR. ROY SMITH'S SATURDAY NIGHT TALKS

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.
Pastor Simpson M. E. Church, Minneapolis

INSULATED IGNORANCE

Ignorance is never so arrogant and dangerous as when insulated by prejudice.

The ignorant man with an open mind may be mistaken but he is never incorrigible. Prejudice automatically closes the mind to facts and all growth, change or improvement thereafter is impossible.

Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, president of the Federal Council of Churches, once said, "While you are building up your denominational walls to shut yourselves in from the rest of the world, you will find it is a good plan to climb up, look out once in a while, and see how many good folk you are shutting out."

Except for their prejudices many violent sectarians, dogmatists and creedalists would soon discover that other religionists are equally honest, earnest and reasonable with themselves.

Except for our prejudices we would soon discover that all men, regardless of color, have some valuable contribution to make to the world's culture and idealism.

Except for prejudices we could settle seventy-five per cent of the labor troubles, race riots, church difficulties, person difficulties and town splits within twenty-four hours.

Except for our prejudice against changes in custom, precedent, traditions and habit we could facilitate justice, increase efficiency, improve public health, eliminate disease, beautify life and enrich the common heritage.

Except for prejudice we could see the virtue in religions other than our own, the honesty in candidates outside our own party, the sincerity of leaders in other social classes and the good character of those who differ with us in matters of economic opinion.

Prejudice insulates the mind, making it impervious to facts or ideas, thus sterilizing it and reducing life to static ignorance, injustice and helplessness.

Paris Dons Sport Garb at Resorts

Jumper Suit Still Favorite Mode; Wool Costume Must Be All White.

There are no decided innovations among the new sport clothes shown in the latest collections, writes a Paris fashion correspondent in the New York Times. The jumper suit is still the favored mode, particularly that version of it designed by Jean Patou. The lower part of the blouse of this kasha suit is bordered in a series of two-inch stripes of contrasting color, a beige suit having, for example, stripes of bold de rose, faded blue and dull yellow. Over this suit is worn a top-coat of tweed or other woolen material.

For tennis Patou advocates the costume he designed for Mile. Lengien, box-plaited white crepe de chine skirt with a sleeveless white jumper blouse, and, for the necessary touch of bright color, an orange sweater and matching bandeau for the hair.

Worth, who has been very slow to adopt the jumper suit at all, preferring the sport dress made in one piece, has compromised on a suit in which the jumper is really a sleeveless jacket with the ends at the front belt-line. In one suit of this type the skirt of plisse in navy serge was attached to a straight long-sleeved waist of red and beige figured foulard. Over this came the jumper jacket with open front, tied at the waistline with a bow lined in the red and beige foulard and a huge boutonniere of the same material.

This year the costume chosen by the Parisienne for the winter season in the Alps differs most obviously from that selected by her American sister in its lack of Indian decorative inspiration. The athletic American Snow Maiden is gay in colors and designs adapted from the garments of frontier days, but this winter more than ever the French woman must be delicately feminine in her attire even when about to tumble head-first off a bob-sled into a snowbank. When she chooses a wool costume, she likes it to be all white, a fleecy jumper of brushed angora bordered possibly with a band of pale yellow. Knickers of the same material fit tightly over the calf of the leg under the heavy white wool golf hose, bordered also in yellow. Her enveloping scarf is of white brushed wool, as are her heavy gloves and stocking cap, presenting a camouflage against the snow as effective as the coat of the polar bear.

Another clever design, this time in beige and brown, comes from Jane Regny. The skirt of this suit is of brown kasha and is plaited at either side, while the blouse is of beige kasha, the cleverness lying in an inverted V of brown that, beginning at the bottom of the blouse in front in line with the side plaits of the skirt, continues up the front of the jumper.

Strawberries Beauty Aid

Dr. Walter J. Swingle, a field agent of the Department of Agriculture, has arrived at San Francisco with specimens of strange and exotic fruits from the Orient. Among them is what is described as a giant strawberry, a strawberry wonder said to grow on a tree.

The idea of plucking strawberries from trees is sufficiently novel in itself, but it is further set forth that this fruit of the tree has remarkable beauty-giving powers. Those who eat of it may, as a result, reduce their weight, and, at the same time, beautify the complexion. Its native habitat is on the Chinese coast, south of the Yangtze river, but it is believed that it may be grown in many parts of the United States.—Boston Transcript.

Largest Loom

At Rodewisch, in Saxony, the center of the German textile industry, there is in operation what is thought to be the largest weaving loom in the world. This huge crank loom is 77 feet long and 60 feet wide. It stands 10 feet high and weighs 35 tons. The shuttle is of corresponding proportions, and travels to and fro at the rate of 15 times a minute.

This machine is capable of turning out seamless disks of felt, such as are used in paper mills, up to 233 feet in circumference.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock. Mrs. Cox, superintendent.
Evangelistic service, 7:45. Extra music by the choir.

Monday evening, 7:30, church meeting.

On Tuesday evening at 7:30 there will be held a special meeting for the Sunday school parents and friends. All the children are invited. At that time, Rev. Eversz will give a lecture illustrated by stereopticon views. The subject will be: "The Development of the Negroes After the Civil War." After the lecture refreshments will be served.

The ladies' aid will meet Thursday afternoon in the church entertained by Mrs. Ormseth and Mrs. H. Torkelson.

Thursday evening, 7:30, prayer service.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY

Liza was on the witness stand. "Are you positive," inquired the prosecutor, "that you know where your husband was on the night this crime was committed?" "Ef Ah didn'," replied the witness firmly, "den Ar busted a good rollin' pin ovah an Inncercent man's haid, dat's all!"—American Legion Weekly.

An Overlooked Affair

"Here's a case," said the Billville justice, "which has been on a docket ten years." "Yes, your honor," said the head bailiff, "he was hung on another charge."

"It's contempt of court," said the justice; "never let them hang another man that comes to my court 'till I get a whack at it."

Not in a Hurry to Land

"Dey say you kin go so high in dese balloons you kin hear de angels sing." "Well, why don't you go up in one?" "Not whilst dar's singin' gwine on up dar. De only way I'll ever git to glory is w'en everything's quiet—w'en I kin creep in an' hide out, 'fo dey has a chance ter ax sarchin' questions!"

WHY DID SHE ASK?

Hubby—No, love, with a washrag.
Why do you ask?

There Is a Reason

Girls don't dare wear
A dress that's torn—
Nor can hose that
Has holes be worn.

Laugh That Off

"What, another hat? Will you never stop buying things under the pretext that they are bargains?" "I've already stopped, dear. I paid twice as much for this as it's worth."—Petit Bleu.

Or, Yes Indeed!

Housewife—Would you like some cake?
Tramp—Yes.
Housewife—Yes, what?
Tramp—Yes, dear.

Meeting Called to Order

He—May I hold your hand a second?
She—Will you remember to release it when the second is up?
He—I'll make a minute of it.

Too Bad

Alice—Don't worry, dear. You have a host of friends.
Mae—Yes, but so few of my friends are hosts.

Safety First

Insurance Agent—What! You're going to drop your insurance?
Jones—Yes, I've quit walking and bought a car.

VEGETABLE TALK

Onion—I hear Mr. Red Pepper is a great sport.
Tomato—Yes; he's hot stuff!

Moves Two Feet

It always makes me laugh,
So wonderful a treat,
To see an athlete run a mile
And only move two feet.

No Use

"Did you see a very pretty girl pass here about a minute ago?"
"Yes, but she's high hat, mister. She gave me the glare when I spoke."

Magnets Last Long

The life of a permanent magnet, magnetized in any manner whatever, has never been determined. A magnet made of the best quality of steel, properly heat-treated and aged, and used under the best conditions of service, would probably deteriorate only a negligible amount in the lifetime of a single observer.

Voices

The day is full of voices—meaningless, insistent. They drone upon the street, chatter at parties, hurl snatches of themselves at you from passing automobiles, rise up and down dramatically from open-air platforms, end with question marks at the office, trail after you on street cars. . . . Your ears, forever open, almost have to hear.

Yet in this same room with you are voices of utmost silence, whose every word concerns you. You control them more surely than you control telephone or radio. Open a page—they talk to you quietly. Close a page—they are through. They are the voices of the advertisements. They talk direct to you. Tell of better roofing for your home, more protective paint for its walls. Shoes your youngsters can't scuffle out easily. Salads, delicious drinks, to gratify you. Reinforced hosiery, cooler underwear, purer soaps. You believe in these voices, for they have to be sincere. Else they would not be in these pages—could not have the nation's belief. You buy the goods they proffer, for you know already what those goods will do. And wide belief has lowered their prices. They are economical—sure!

Loose products everywhere in stores are crying out, "Buy me!" But behind the voice of the advertised product is the voice of authority. The voice that tells the why, what, when, where and how of the goods you buy.

Heed these courteous voices often. Read the advertisements every day

DR. ROY SMITH'S SATURDAY NIGHT TALKS

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.

INSULATED IGNORANCE

Ignorance is never so arrogant and dangerous as when insulated by prejudice.

The ignorant man with an open mind may be mistaken but he is never incorrigible. Prejudice automatically closes the mind to facts and all growth, change or improvement thereafter is impossible.

Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, president of the Federal Council of Churches, once said, "While you are building up your denominational walls to shut yourselves in from the rest of the world, you will find it is a good plan to climb up, look out once in a while, and see how many good folk you are shutting out."

Except for their prejudices many violent sectarians, dogmatists and creedalists would soon discover that other religions are equally honest, earnest and reasonable with themselves.

Except for our prejudices we would soon discover that all men, regardless of color, have some valuable contribution to make to the world's culture and idealism.

Except for prejudices we could settle seventy-five per cent of the labor troubles, race riots, church difficulties, person difficulties and town splits within twenty-four hours.

Except for our prejudice against changes in custom, precedent, traditions and habit we could facilitate justice, increase efficiency, improve public health, eliminate disease, beautify life and enrich the common heritage.

Except for prejudice we could see the virtue in religions, other than our own, the honesty in candidates outside our own party, the sincerity of leaders in other social classes and the good character of those who differ with us in matters of economic opinion.

Prejudice insulates the mind, making it impervious to facts or ideas, thus sterilizing it and reducing life to static ignorance, injustice and helplessness.

Paris Dons Sport Garb at Resorts

Jumper Suit Still Favorite Mode; Wool Costume Must Be All White.

There are no decided innovations among the new sport clothes shown in the latest collections, writes a Paris fashion correspondent in the New York Times. The jumper suit is still the favored mode, particularly that version of it designed by Jean Patou. The lower part of the blouse of this kasha suit is bordered in a series of two-inch stripes of contrasting color, a beige suit having, for example, stripes of bold de rose, faded blue and dull yellow. Over this suit is worn a top-coat of tweed or other woolen material.

For tennis Patou advocates the costume he designed for Mlle. Lengien, box-plaited white crepe de chine skirt with a sleeveless white jumper blouse, and, for the necessary touch of bright color, an orange sweater and matching bandeau for the hair.

Worth, who has been very slow to adopt the jumper suit at all, preferring the sport dress made in one piece, has compromised on a suit in which the jumper is really a sleeveless jacket with the ends at the front belt-line. In one suit of this type the skirt of plisse in navy serge was attached to a straight long-sleeved waist of red and beige figured foulard. Over this came the jumper jacket with open front, tied at the waistline with a bow lined in the red and beige foulard and a huge boutonniere of the same material.

This year the costume chosen by the Parisienne for the winter season in the Alps differs most obviously from that selected by her American sister in its lack of Indian decorative inspiration. The athletic American Snow Maiden is gay in colors and designs adapted from the garments of frontier days, but this winter more than ever the French woman must be delicately feminine in her attire even when about to tumble head-first off a bob-sled into a snowbank. When she chooses a wool costume, she likes it to be all white, a fleecy jumper of brushed angora bordered possibly with a band of pale yellow. Knickers of the same material fit tightly over the calf of the leg under the heavy white wool golf hose, bordered also in yellow. Her enveloping scarf is of white brushed wool, as are her heavy gloves and stocking cap, presenting a camouflage against the snow as effective as the coat of the polar bear.

For the seeker after unusual color combinations Chantal offers a striking jumper suit with blouse of natural color kasha over a skirt of dull-green kasha, box-plaited in front and a curious puffed belt composed of two-inch-thick rolls.

Another clever design, this time in beige and brown, comes from Jane Regny. The skirt of this suit is of brown kasha and is plaited at either side, while the blouse is of beige kasha, the cleverness lying in an inverted V of brown that, beginning at the bottom of the blouse in front in line with the side plait of the skirt, continues up the front of the jumper.

Strawberries Beauty Aid

Dr. Walter J. Swingle, a field agent of the Department of Agriculture, has arrived at San Francisco with specimens of strange and exotic fruits from the Orient. Among them is what is described as a giant strawberry, a strawberry wonder said to grow on a tree.

The idea of plucking strawberries from trees is sufficiently novel in itself, but it is further set forth that this fruit of the tree has remarkable beauty-giving powers. Those who eat of it may, as a result, reduce their weight, and, at the same time, beautify the complexion. Its native habitat is on the Chinese coast, south of the Yangtze river, but it is believed that it may be grown in many parts of the United States.—Boston Transcript.

Largest Loom

At Rodewisch, in Saxony, the center of the German textile industry, there is in operation what is thought to be the largest weaving loom in the world. This huge crank loom is 77 feet long and 60 feet wide. It stands 10 feet high and weighs 35 tons. The shuttle is of corresponding proportions, and travels to and fro at the rate of 15 times a minute.

This machine is capable of turning out seamless disks of felt, such as are used in paper mills, up to 233 feet in circumference.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock. Mrs. Cox, superintendent.

Evangelistic service, 7:45. Extra music by the choir.

Monday evening, 7:30, church meeting.

On Tuesday evening at 7:30 there will be held a special meeting for the Sunday school parents and friends. All the children are invited. At that time, Rev. Eversz will give a lecture illustrated by stereopticon views. The subject will be: "The Development of the Negroes After the Civil War." After the lecture refreshments will be served.

The ladies' aid will meet Thursday afternoon in the church entertained by Mrs. Ormseth and Mrs. H. Torkelson.

Thursday evening, 7:30, prayer service.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY

Liza was on the witness stand. "Are you positive," inquired the prosecutor, "that you know where your husband was on the night this crime was committed?"

"Ef Ah didn't," replied the witness firmly, "den Ar busted a good rollin' pin ovah an innercent man's haid, dat's all!"—American Legion Weekly.

An Overlooked Affair

"Here's a case," said the Billville justice, "which has been on a docket ten years."

"Yes, your honor," said the head bailiff, "he was hung on another charge."

Not in a Hurry to Land

"Dey say you kin go so high in dese balloons you kin hear de angels sing."

"Well, why don't you go up in one?"

"Not whilst dar's slingin' gwine on up dar. De only way I'll ever git to glory is w'en everything's quiet—w'en I kin creep in an' hide out, 'fo dey has a chance ter ax sarchin' questions!"

WHY DID SHE ASK?

Wife—Do you wash your face with a mirror, dear?
Hubby—No, love, with a washrag. Why do you ask?

There Is a Reason

Girls don't dare wear
A dress that's torn—
Nor can hose that
Has holes be worn.

Laugh That Off

"What, another hat? Will you never stop buying things under the pretext that they are bargains?"
"I've already stopped, dear. I paid twice as much for this as it's worth."
—Petit Bleu.

Or, Yes Indeed!

Housewife—Would you like some cake?
Tramp—Yes.
Housewife—Yes, what?
Tramp—Yes, dear.

Meeting Called to Order

He—May I hold your hand a second?
She—Will you remember to release it when the second is up?
He—I'll make a minute of it.

Too Bad

Alice—Don't worry, dear. You have a host of friends.
Mae—Yes, but so few of my friends are hosts.

Safety First

Insurance Agent—What! You're going to drop your insurance?

VEGETABLE TALK

Onion—I hear Mr. Red Pepper is a great sport.
Tomato—Yes; he's hot stuff!

Moves Two Feet

It always makes me laugh,
So wonderful a treat,
To see an athlete run a mile
And only move two feet.

No Use

"Did you see a very pretty girl pass here about a minute ago?"

Magnets Last Long

The life of a permanent magnet, magnetized in any manner whatever, has never been determined. A magnet made of the best quality of steel, properly heat-treated and aged, and used under the best conditions of service, would probably deteriorate only a negligible amount in the lifetime of a single observer.

WORLD WAR

VETERAN LOSES HIS IDENTITY

Washington, Feb. 12.—(UP)—Jerry Tarbot, world war veteran, who has lost his identity, was recognized before the house veterans' committee today by two marines who served in France. They could not identify him, however.

Rep. Updike, republican, Indiana, who was wounded several times while serving with the marines, and Capt. Louis Cukola, said they had seen Tarbot in France with the marines.

The committee is considering a bill by Rep. Carter, republican, California, giving compensation to Tarbot, who lost his memory as a result of wounds.

NASH-FINCH CO.

BUYS ST. CLOUD GROCERY COMPANY

St. Cloud, Minn., Feb. 12.—(UP)—The Nash-Finch Co., Minneapolis, today announced the purchase of the St. Cloud Grocery Co., the transfer of which will be effective on March 1.

Hugh Evans, head of the St. Cloud firm, announced his retirement from business following 27 years service with the firm.

Consideration involved in the purchase was not announced.

Indian Religious Rite

"Pahos" are feathered sticks which certain Indian tribes use in their religious rituals. A member of these tribes never prays without first planting around himself, or on his altar, or before his shrine, a number of "pahos." As the birds that soar to the highest heavens, so may his petitions be feathered and winged to the ears of the gods.

DISPLAY ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Attractive Boy Scout Exhibitions in Several Show Windows Today

Requirements of boy scouts and work accomplished prior to the awarding of merit badges form attractive displays in show windows of several Brainerd business houses today.

The displays will be allowed to remain over the week end to allow the people of Brainerd an opportunity to see part of the advancement work of the Boy Scouts of Crow Wing Area.

Displays are exhibited in the following stores: Northern Home Furnishing Co., Gruenhagen Co., J. C. Penney Co., Asher Taylor and the former John M. Bye store and Jones store on Front street.

TROOP NO. 1 HAS CHICKEN DINNER

Served by Mothers of Boys in Methodist Assembly Rooms

AWARD MERIT BADGES

Addresses Given by Rev. Morris L. Eversz and Scout Executive

Last evening, 22 boy scouts of Troop No. 1 and their "dads" were treated to a chicken dinner at the Methodist assembly rooms by the mothers of the boys.

Members of the committee serving were: Mesdames A. Ellison, Kelly Davis, Mabel Clarkson, Nesmith Nelson, William Nelson, A. F. Peterson, A. G. Kurz, V. R. Wilson.

H. N. Hoffman was toastmaster while P. E. Lind was the song leader. Mr. Lind also gave a few song hits, the most popular being a song concerning "the pleasure of being served breakfast in bed in the morning."

Remarks on "The Scoutmaster's relation to the parents of the scouts" were given by Rev. Morris L. Eversz. An address by Scout Executive B. Perry Newton on the "Past, Present and Future of Troop No. 1" was a notable feature of the evening.

Scouts Malcolm E. Hanson and A. Trommald were awarded merit badges.

HUNDREDS WATCH BOYS' DOG DERBY

EXCITEMENT PREVAILS

Eager Boys and Impatient Dogs Stage City's Greatest Derby

With clear skies overhead and the weather just cold enough to give it that great northern out of doors effect, Brainerd witnessed the annual Boys Dog Derby this afternoon.

What an event it was to the eager boys and their impatient dogs anxious to please their masters. At press time the winner of great derby was still undecided, with dogs panting and boys excited over the great finals to determine the winner and the entry who will be given the opportunity of attending the Duluth Winter Frolic and a chance of coping state honors at the derby in the Zenith City next Saturday.

The entries gathered at the court house at 2:15 o'clock where they received their numbers and then marched to the course. Twenty-five numbers were given to the boys. The Derby was held under the auspices of the American Legion.

FARMER LOSES LEFT HAND IN CORN SHREDDER

Heart Failure Claims Resident While at Work at Gas Plant This Morning

WAS 71 YEARS OLD

Came to Brainerd in 1882; Contracted Brick Work of Local Blocks

Charles Peterson, aged 71 years, 609 South 7th street, contractor in brick work dropped dead while working this morning at the Brainerd Gas Plant. He was preparing to lay bricks for the installation of the new boiler when he received the fatal attack of heart failure.

Mr. Peterson was one of the oldest and most respected citizens of the city, having lived here for 44 years. He was born in Norway, coming to America in 1880. He lived at Calumet, Michigan for one year and then moved to St. Paul where he worked on brick work in the construction of the old Manitoba shops, now the Great Northern railway shops. Mr. Peterson remained in St. Paul until the spring of 1882 when he moved to Gull River. He came to Brainerd in 1882.

Among Mr. Peterson's notable construction work in Brainerd are the following buildings where he contracted for the brick work: Walverman block, Mahlum block, Imperial block which burned down and later replaced by the Jewel block.

Mr. Peterson was a charter member of the local Bricklayers union, member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles and the Bethlehem Lutheran church. His first wife died about 12 years ago.

Surviving are his wife, one son, O. A. Peterson, of Brainerd; and four daughters, Mrs. C. A. Stadlbauer, Brainerd; Mrs. R. H. Rehl, Chicago; Mrs. J. H. Levin, Minneapolis, and Mrs. George Occhionero, New York City.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed yet.

FARMER'S CAR SKIDS, OVERTURNS, BREAKS HIS NECK

Hoffman, Minn., Feb. 12.—(UP)—Erick Peterson, 50, farmer, was killed near Morris when the automobile in which he was riding skidded and overturned in a ditch. Peterson's neck was broken in the crash. Arthur and Richard Hubred, brothers, employed on the Peterson farm, who were in the car at the time of the crash, escaped with minor injuries.

CHARGED WITH BRANDING SON WITH A POKER

Lorain, O., Feb. 12.—(UP)—Charges of branding his son with red hot poker and beating other children were placed against John Svetovac, 35, by his wife today. Svetovac, held in the county jail here, has been "on a rampage" for the past three weeks, according to Mrs. Svetovac.

He tortured his six children, ranging from 3 to 11 years, and beat all of them daily, she said.

Svetovac held one of the boys, she charged, while he heated an iron poker in an open fire, and then branded the child's side.

Seven boarders in the Svetovac home told police that the father was "bad."

BROWNING SEPARATION TRIAL REOPENED

Addresses Given by Rev. Morris L. Eversz and Scout Executive

Last evening, 22 boy scouts of Troop No. 1 and their "dads" were treated to a chicken dinner at the Methodist assembly rooms by the mothers of the boys.

Members of the committee serving were: Mesdames A. Ellison, Kelly Davis, Mabel Clarkson, Nesmith Nelson, William Nelson, A. F. Peterson, A. G. Kurz, V. R. Wilson.

H. D. Hoffman was toastmaster while F. E. Lind was the song leader. Mr. Lind also gave a few song hits, the most popular being a song concerning "the pleasure of being served breakfast in bed in the morning."

Remarks on "The Scoutmaster's relation to the parents of the scouts" were given by Rev. Morris L. Eversz. An address by Scout Executive B. Perry Newton on the "Past, Present and Future of Troop No. 1" was a notable feature of the evening.

Scouts Malcolm Ellison and Aftrommald were awarded merit badges.

HUNDREDS WATCH BOYS' DOG DERBY

EXCITEMENT PREVAILS

Eager Boys and Impatient Dogs Stage City's Greatest Derby

With clear skies overhead and the weather just cold enough to give it that great northern out of doors effect, Brainerd witnessed the annual Boys Dog Derby this afternoon.

What an event it was to the eager boys and their impatient dogs anxious to please their masters. At press time the winner of great derby was still undecided, with dogs panting and boys excited over the great finals to determine the winner and the entry who will be given the opportunity of attending the Duluth Winter Frolic and a chance of coping state honors at the derby in the Zenith City next Saturday.

The course on South Broadway from Oak to Laurel streets was lined with people as the boys put their dogs through the preparatory paces for the big event. Excitement was at fever pitch as the races started.

The entries gathered at the court house at 2:15 o'clock where they received their numbers and then marched to the course. Twenty-five numbers were given to the boys. The Derby was held under the auspices of the American Legion.

The first pan-American conference of national directors of public health took place in Washington, from September 27 to 29, 1926. This was in compliance with a resolution adopted by the Fifth International conference of American states, held in Santiago, Chile, in 1923.

A House With An Air of Distinction
Well Arranged, Convenient, and Economical

Six-Room Bungalow No. 617

Designed for American Face Brick Association

The simplicity of its design suggests a simple treatment of the brickwork, relieved by a touch of ornament in the pattern on the living room bay.

Placed end-wise or broadside to the roadway this home would be equally attractive.

The charm of the exterior lies in its studied simplicity, its low horizontal lines, well placed casement windows and the interesting masses of its unique chimneys with their quaint brick tops.

The house is planned so that the entrance and kitchen come in the middle of the sides, leaving the ends for the bedrooms and living rooms, where they will receive the best light and air.

This plan will appeal to those who wish a room convenient to the entrance for use as an office or study.

Occupying the entire front of the house are the living and dining rooms, with French doors opening upon the porch which extends the full width of the house. Both rooms have a fine group of windows on the side. An open brick fireplace, with a wide hearth, is flanked by a seat and a shallow bay, giving a charming aspect to the living room.

Across the entrance hall is a den, or library, which may be used as a bedroom, if desired. Both the bedrooms are corner rooms, and a hall, connecting the bedrooms with the bath and kitchen, also give access to the front entrance through the coat closet. There are closets a-plenty.

The kitchen is well-lighted, compact and conveniently arranged. The refrigerator is placed in the pantry and iced from the porch, which is recessed under the main roof of the house.

The basement is only partially excavated and is arranged for heating plant, fuel bins, laundry and vegetable cellar. It is lighted by windows set in areas, but if the grade of the lot can be kept lower on the side not shown, the windows will come above grade.

The ceiling height is 8 feet 8 inches and the content 23,500 cubic feet.

PLANNING TO PUT VOLCANO TO WORKScientists Seek Method of Harnessing Crater.

Not so many years ago the people of Iceland conceived the idea of harnessing the famous hot springs which abound in that country and, by means of pipes, conveying the hot water to their homes for heating and domestic purposes.

The wise men of Naples, Italy, are seeking for some method of impressing the volcano, Little Vesuvius, into service, and utilizing its heat for train car operation.

For 800 years the crater at Pozzuoli was considered extinct. A few years ago it awakened, and two volcanic cauldrons opened at the crater base, while more recently an eruptive mouth appeared.

Men of science consider that if the forces, heat and electricity, at this point were controlled by a power plant, it would be possible not only to provide sufficient electricity for the supply of the surrounding towns, but for Naples as well.

The great difficulty is in finding a piping which can resist the corroding power of the hydrosulphides and sulphur dioxide of the soil near the volcanic mouth.

The commune of Naples had a huge iron pipe sunk, but after a short time it was entirely destroyed by the action of these gases. Later a smaller pipe of white metal was used, but this, too, corroded.

So far it has not been possible to find a piping which lasts more than a few weeks, after being sunk.

The Solfatara, ever since Roman times, has been celebrated for its curative properties.

In Roman days its baths were famous and today remains of them can be seen in the hillside.

Since the war the sulphurous vapors from the different apertures have brought health to many ex-soldiers suffering from lung trouble.

During the past five years vast quantities of kaolin have been taken from the crater basin, for the Neapolitan industry of chalk statuettes.

It was this extensive digging which caused the ground to cave in, when a volcanic cauldron of lava mud made its appearance.

A small observatory was erected in order that the crater could be studied. The volcano was given the name of "Little Vesuvius" though it is miles away from Mount Vesuvius, and situated on the other side of Naples.

Experts consider the Pozzuoli crater as far more wonderful than Vesuvius itself.

The heat generated by the mud cauldron is 100 degrees hotter than boiling water, and is thus capable of generating power for electrical purposes.

Its vapors also carry a positive charge of electricity.

The only recorded eruption of lava from Solfatara is one of doubtful authenticity ascribed to the year 1193.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 12.—(UP)—The Winnipeg wheat market opened 1/4 to 3/4 cents higher this morning at $1.38 to $1.38 1/4, based on the firmness in Liverpool. The market has held steady during the first hour, but there is nothing going on and the pit is half deserted. The passage of the McNary-Haugen bill is evidently a factor in the Liverpool firmness.

Buffalo Lake, Minn., Feb. 12.—(UP)—Aroused by smoke entering through a crack under his door, Frank Maag, Martinsburg township farmer, rushed downstairs to find his wife's charred body lying on the kitchen floor.

Mrs. Maag, 46, apparently met her death when her clothing became fired as she was completing her kitchen duties in the evening.

Get-Together Conference

The first pan-American conference of national directors of public health took place in Washington, from September 27 to 29, 1926. This was in compliance with a resolution adopted by the Fifth international conference of American states, held in Santiago, Chile, in 1923.

A House With An Air of Distinction

Six-Room Bungalow No. 617

Designed for American Face Brick Association

THE low walls and long sweeping roof of this interesting bungalow seem to fit it into a prairie landscape, though it could be adapted to a gently sloping site.

The simplicity of its design suggests a simple treatment of the brickwork, relieved by a touch of ornament in the pattern on the living room bay.

Placed end-wise or broadside to the roadway this home would be equally attractive.

The charm of the exterior lies in its studied simplicity, its low horizontal lines, well placed casement windows and the interesting masses of its unique chimneys with their quaint brick tops.

The house is planned so that the entrance and kitchen come in the middle of the sides, leaving the ends for the bedrooms and living rooms, where they will receive the best light and air.

The well-sheltered entrance has a brick paved platform and a delightful, arched doorway flanked on either hand by broad inviting benches.

Occupying the entire front of the house are the living and dining rooms, with French doors opening upon the porch which extends the full width of the house. Both rooms have a fine group of windows on the side. An open brick fireplace, with a wide hearth, is flanked by a seat and a shallow bay, giving a charming aspect to the living room.

Across the entrance hall is a den, or library, which may be used as a bedroom, if desired. Both the bedrooms are corner rooms, and a hall, connecting the bedrooms with the bath and kitchen, also give access to the front entrance through the coat closet. There are closets a-plenty.

The kitchen is well-lighted, compact and conveniently arranged. The refrigerator is placed in the pantry and iced from the porch, which is recessed under the main roof of the house.

The basement is only partially excavated and is arranged for heating plant, fuel bins, laundry and vegetable cellar. It is lighted by windows set in areas, but if the grade of the lot can be kept lower on the side not shown, the windows will come above grade.

The ceiling height is 8 feet 8 inches and the content 23,500 cubic feet.
